READ—

Annual Report on the working of the Registration Department in Mysore during the year 1880—81, by H. Hudson, Esq, Inspector General of Registration.

No. 1109—J. 392, DATED BANGALORE, 8TH AUGUST 1881.

REVIEW BY THE OFFG. RESIDENT.—The total number of registrations during 1880—81 was 15,069 against 14,577 in the previous year. The increase is displayed in the class of documents relating to immovable property of less than 100 Rs. value, the registration of which is optional. Both in compulsory registrations of documents relating to immovable property of more than 100 Rs. value (9,457 against 9,527) and in optional registrations of documents relating to movable property (445 against 479) there has been a decrease.

2. The cause of the increase in the number of registrations of documents relating to immovable property of which the registration is voluntary, of which 5,110 have been registered, against 4,504 in the previous year, is probably due to an increased perception of the advantage given by the law to registered over unregistered documents even where registration is optional. It cannot be ascribed to the reduction in fees on those of value under Rs. 50, for whereas the registrations of such documents have increased 13 per cent, the registrations of documents relating to immovable property of values between 50 and 100 Rs. have increased 14 per cent, and the registrations of documents relating to movable property in which class also a reduction was lately made have fallen off instead of improving.

3. If the number of documents of high value however, has not increased, the average value of the property affected by those which have been registered has risen very largely, and the aggregate value of the property affected by documents registered which related to immovable property has risen from Rs. 42,33,465 to Rs. 68,98,968. This is due to the registration of deeds effecting the transfer of very exceptionally valuable properties in the Kolar District in connection with the companies formed for working gold mines. That the value of property affected by the deeds registered which relate to movable property again has, notwithstanding the reduction in their number, risen from Rs 1,67,476 to Rs. 2,82,118 is not so capable of satisfactory explanation but possibly, as the Inspector General suggests, it is only when special grounds exist for protection in instruments of the class referred to that registration is resorted to. In fact both the small number of such documents that are annually registered, and the otherwise inexplicable fluctuations in the number, evidence the fact that the registration of them has taken no firm hold as yet of the people of Mysore.

4. Naturally the percentage of fees on the value of property to which the registered deeds related dropped, as the average value rose; the figures for the past and previous years stood thus:—

	1879—80		1880—81
	As.	P.	As.	P.
Immovable property	11	11	8	8
Movable property	10	5	6	2

but the average registration fee per document rose in the case of compulsory registration from Rs. 2—14—8 to Rs. 3—8—1, while it fell in voluntary registrations from 15 As. 2 P. to 14 As. 9 P.

5. The only departmental change during the year was the appointment of a Special Sub-Registrar for the Cantonment of Bangalore in place of the Sub-Registrar paid by commission. Since the close of the year the Cantonment has been separated entirely from the Mysore Administration and it has now become the Civil and Military Station under the Resident in Mysore.

6. The financial results of the year have been exceptionally favorable. The registration of several documents of high value would itself have caused favorable financial results, but added to that these gold mining deeds were registered in the Office of the Registrar of Bangalore and a large sum in commission was thus saved: then again the substitution of a paid Sub-Registrar in the Cantonment has saved money, the addition to the cost of establishments having been more than covered by the saving in commission. On the whole the income was Rs. 45,751 and the expenditure Rs. 24,464, the first being Rs. 7,363 and the second only Rs. 20 more than in 1879—80. The surplus of Rs. 21,287 is the largest yet realized and the percentage of expenditure to income was 53·42.

The Annual Report by the Chief Judge of Mysore, on the administration of Civil Justice in the Province of Mysore, during the year 1880.

No. 1132—G. 400, DATED BANGALORE, 12TH AUGUST 1881.

REVIEW BY THE OFFG. RESIDENT.—In regard to number of Courts or their pecuniary jurisdiction there was no change during the year, but the territorial jurisdiction of four Munsiffs in the Ashtagram Division was altered by transfer of parts of taluks for the convenience of suitors and the equalization of work.

2. Rules relating to the agreements of Legal Practitioners with their clients, regulating the attachment and sale of property in execution, regulating the remuneration of Copyists, and regulating process fees and the entertainment and remuneration of Process-servers were introduced during the year.

3. The amount of litigation during 1880 shows a decided decrease compared with the statistics of 1879. In Bangalore where the work of the Small Cause Court shows a marked diminution, the decrease is attributed to the failure of some Native banking companies, but generally it is said that the operation of the insolvency provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure tends to diminish the number of suits filed, there being no necessity for the scheduled creditors to file separate suits.

4. The total number of suits filed in 1880 and 1879 respectively was 17,203 and 21,475. The only Courts which show any increase are those of the District Judges; but the total number of original suits filed in those Courts is very insignificant. The one Court of Small Causes in Bangalore displays as great a decrease as 2,000 cases, and in the Courts of the Munsiffs there were 2,085 fewer cases than in 1879. The total value of the suits filed however, which was Rs. 22,45,104, though less than that of the suits in 1879, does not show the same ratio of decrease as the number and gives an average value of Rs. 131 against Rs. 109. Ninety-six per cent of the suits were for sums under Rs. 500.

Proceedings of the Offg. Resident in Mysore, (Judicial),—dated 12th August 1881.

5. With 1,268 suits pending from the previous year there were in all 18,471, suits for disposal; 17,461 were disposed of, and 1,010 were pending at the close of the year. Nearly 30 per cent of the suits which were disposed of were contested 53 per cent were uncontested and the rest were either disposed of without trial or referred to arbitration. The percentage of contested suits is thus 2 more than in 1879. Of such suits 3,878 were decreed in whole or in part for the plaintiff against 1,329 for the defendant. Of the uncontested suits the percentage decreed ex parte or on default has fallen from 49 to 33. This decrease is believed to be matter for satisfaction, as indicating greater caution on the part of the Courts before proceeding to dispose of cases in the absence of parties.

6. The returns show that the business brought before the Civil Courts was disposed of without delay and that a small proportion only of the suits were left undecided for more than 3 months.

7. In comparing the results of execution cases in 1880 with 1879 it is curious to observe that though 26·2 per cent were executed in whole as against 20·6 per cent, there were many more cases wholly infructuous and in only 49·8 per cent of the cases was satisfaction obtained in whole or in part, whereas in 64 per cent of the cases last year was there some satisfaction. It is to be regretted that the action of the Courts is not more effectual in this respect. The number of cases disposed of was much smaller being 17,713 against 24,327, but still less was the money realized, Rs. 4,47,365 against Rs. 16,31,816 and yet the number of applications in which process was issued for the arrest of judgment-debtors rose from 1,363 to 1,562 and immovable properties were attached in 2,430 cases against 1,855 in 1879. The severity of the method is no measure, it seems, of the success of the measure. But in only 205 cases were debtors actually imprisoned in the jail.

8. Owing, it is said, to some Munsiffs not being empowered as Courts of Small Causes the number of appeals for disposal rose from 913 to 1,003; of these 949 were disposed of with an average duration of 35 days. In 19·2 per cent of the cases the decree was reversed on appeal. In the Judicial Commissioner's Court too the appellate work was heavier than in 1879. It comprised 13 first and 149 second appeals. Of the 162 cases for trial all but 21 were disposed of, but in the case of that Court the percentage of reversal of decree on appeal rose and was 30·5 against 29·9.

9. In the work of process-serving though the number of processes exceeded those of 1879 the fees collected were less, and the expenditure increased so that the net savings were only Rs. 5,388 as compared with Rs. 29,100. These fees however, it is to be borne in mind, are imposed not for purposes of revenue but for providing means of remunerating the persons employed in the service of processes, and so long as the income is not exceeded any increase of expenditure is not to be regretted, if the processes of the Courts are more effectually executed.

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore, (Financial),—dated 20th August 1881.

READ—

Annual Report on the working of the Money Order Department in the Province of Mysore for the year 1880—81.

No. 1250—G. 444, DATED BANGALORE, 20TH AUGUST 1881.

REVIEW BY THE OFFICIATING RESIDENT.—It was mentioned in the Review of the Money Order Report for 1879—80 that the transfer of the business to the Imperial Post Office must greatly curtail the scope of operations in Mysore. Where British Post Offices exist in the interior, all the business both internal and in relation with places outside the Province is done in them; and the dilatory and somewhat cumbersome procedure by which alone money orders can be drawn or paid in relation with offices of British India in other parts of the Province is not likely to conduce to the increased use of that means of remittance especially when currency notes are so freely used for remitting money.

2. It is therefore the more satisfactory as a sign probably of material advancement that notwithstanding the necessarily dilatory procedure which must be adopted in drawing or cashing money orders between local Mysore Treasuries and Her Majesty's Post Offices, the number of such transactions has rather increased than diminished, when the period from April to December 1880 is compared with the same months of 1879 during which the former system of issuing orders from Treasuries in British India was in force and when Mysore and British India were on the same footing.

3. Local transactions in Mysore Offices have necessarily diminished in number and consequence as the medium of the Post Office is preferred wherever one exists in Mysore, and the profit made is very insignificant, being only 29 Rs; but so long as the Department is not worked at a loss and its main object of affording a convenient means of remittance of small sums of money is attained, there can be no cause for dissatisfaction.

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore.

Letter No. 3422, dated 26th January 1881, from the President, Cantonment Municipal Commission, Bangalore, addressed to the Secretary to the (late) Chief Commissioner, Revenue Department, submitting the Budget Estimates of the Municipality for the year 1881—82.

Letters Nos. 3889 and 4012, dated respectively the 16th and 31st March 1881, from the same, forwarding estimates and notifications of sanction for certain public works provided for in the budget received with the above.

Proceedings of the Resident in Mysore,—Order,—Camp No. 63, dated Ooty, 31st May 1881.

The receipts of the Municipality of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore for the year 1881—82 are estimated at Rs 1,36,755, which, added to the opening balance of Rs. 11,000 on 1st April 1881, make a total income of Rs. 1,47,755. Provision has been made in the estimates for a tax on carriages, horses, &c, (Rs. 3,000) and for a toll on carts, carriages, &c., (Rs. 5,000), sought by the Municipal Board to be newly imposed during the current year. The Resident observes that proposals for new taxation requiring the sanction of the Government of India should not be submitted with the budget estimates, but sanction should have been obtained before they were budgeted for. The amount of these taxes (Rs. 8,000) has therefore been struck out of the estimate of receipts, reducing the income to Rs. 1,39,755. The proposal to impose the taxes in question should be submitted separately for consideration with a full explanation of the grounds on which the measure is rendered necessary. On the other hand the budget estimates for a grant of Rs. 9,500 towards the up-keep of roads, but the Resident proposes to allot Rs. 12,000 as was done up to last year and the receipts will accordingly amount to Rs. 1,42,255.

2. Under existing arrangements the octroi collection for the Town and Cantonment of Bangalore is made by the Cantonment Municipality, one-third of which is paid over to the Town Municipality, which at the same time bears one-third share of the cost of the establishment entertained for the collection of the duty. His Highness the Maha Raja's Government have been consulted as to the advisability of the continuance of the arrangement, which appears to the Resident unobjectionable ; and, as the views of that Government have not yet been communicated, the arrangement may continue until further orders.

3. The estimated expenditure amounts to Rs 1,47,246, which includes some additions to establishments and increases to the pay of certain individuals on the existing establishment. Sir James Gordon has again to remark that budget estimates should not contain proposals for expenditure that have not previously received sanction, and on this ground and also with the object of bringing the expenditure within the estimated income, all unsanctioned items of expenditure under establishments have been struck out of the estimates. The contribution of Rs. 300 hitherto made on account of the Municipal Establishment entertained in the Revenue Department of the (late) Chief Commissioner's Office has been struck out in consequence of the change in the Administration. The provision of Rs. 7,200 for lighting 400 lamps at Rs. 1—8—0 per lamp has been reduced to Rs. 6,900 at Rs. 1—7—0 per lamp, but an addition of Rs. 300 is made to the estimate for an increase to the number of lamp posts.

4. Reduced as above, the estimates of expenditure amount to Rs. 1,44,934, being in excess of the income by Rs. 2,679. Still further reductions in expenditure are therefore necessary, and the Resident would leave it to the Municipal Board to suggest them. It appears, however, that reductions can most appropriately be made under original public works, only those requiring to be executed urgently being undertaken during the current year.

5. Under the head "Conservancy," a provision of Rs. 5,760 is made for hire of bullocks for rubbish carts against Rs. 1,200 sanctioned last year, and the increase is due to the proposal of the Board to extend the system of conservancy by departmental carts instead of by contractors to three more Divisions (Nos. 4, 5 and 6) of the Municipality. It should have been explained how the addition of three Divisions necessitates increasing the number of carts from 10 to 48 : when 10 sufficed for 3 Divisions last year, it requires explanation that so many are required for three more : moreover it does not appear how the conservancy of those three Divisions was managed during the past year as no provision has been made in that year's budget for conservancy by contractors. Either the contractors did the work for nothing, which is not at all likely, or the expenditure must have been met under some other head. The Resident is fully alive to the necessity of making the most efficient provision for the conservancy of the station, and does not wish to reduce the provision made for that purpose so long as he is assured that the work will be efficiently as well as economically carried out ; but still a change of system which apparently entails a very great increase of expenditure, and no corresponding decrease at all, must be justified.

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore, (Financial),—dated 22nd August 1881.

6. The President is also requested to explain the difference between the item "Miscellaneous defray charges not provided for in the Budget," (Rs. 400) under XII Miscellaneous, and the ad "Reserve" Rs. (3,000) under XIII Reserve.

7. With the above remarks and modifications, the Budget Estimates of the Civil and Military ation of Bangalore for the year 1881—82 are sanctioned. The estimates as modified in this fice are herewith forwarded, and the President is requested to return them, correcting his Office pies in accordance therewith.

Letter No. 981, dated 5th July 1881, from the President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Municipal Board of the Civil and Military Station on the Budget Estimates of the Municipality for the year 1881-82.

Resident's remarks on Budget for 1881-82.

10. Read—Proceedings of the Resident in Mysore, No. 63, dated 31st May 1881, conveying remarks on the budget estimate of receipts and disbursements for the official year 1881-82.

It will be pointed out that since this budget was framed it has been ascertained that the balance available is Rs. 13,000 instead of Rs. 11,000 as calculated, also that Rs. 10,000 unrealized in the year 1880-81 has to be carried to account in the current year on account of house assessment, and a deduction of Rs. 3,000 should be made in the total estimated receipts under head "House Tax" on account of houses situated within the newly defined limits and transferred to the Town Municipality.

By the Resident's letter the deficit is set down at Rs. 2,679, but it should be Rs. 3,679, the figures having been miscounted. To this must be added the sum of Rs. 2,500, the additional sum which the Resident proposes making over to the Municipality for the up-keep of through roads, as such money must be spent on such roads and cannot be otherwise utilized.

It will be seen that now a small surplus may be anticipated and as in the Resident's letter under reply the Municipal Board was directed to strike out some original works merely because a deficiency was expected, the list of original works as at first drawn up is again submitted, there being enough money to provide for them all. One however (Railings on Race Course Road Rs. 540) has been struck out of the list as the locality is outside the newly defined boundaries of the Civil and Military Station: this will make the anticipated surplus Rs. 3,361 to which add Rs. 1,492 saved in hire of carts and bullocks.

The budget provided for 48 pairs of bullocks for that number of rubbish carts; the Resident asks why 48 carts are required for six Divisions when last year 10 were sufficent for three Divisions.

In the previous year the Municipality had their own carts as follows:—

No. 1	Division, Alsur		4
No. 2	„ Shule		5
No. 3	„ Arab Lines		1
	Fort		1

While besides these the Municipality hired four carts for conservancy purposes in Arab Line No. 3 Division. In the other Divisions, Nos. 4, 5 and 6, the right to collect rubbish was leased o to contractors and they collected and carted it away in their own carts: this is the explanation as why no charges appear in the accounts for clearing out these Divisions.

Since the 1st April 1881 the Municipality have introduced their own carts into Blackpalli, No. 5 Division, so that there are now carts belonging to the Municipality working as under.:—

No. 1	Division	4
No. 2	„	5
No. 3	„ including 1 in Fort	2	Besides the four hired carts.
No. 5	„	10	These are hired carts.

In Nos. 4 and 6 Divisions the rubbish is cleared away under the old system, viz., by contractors' carts, and as the contractors as before stated supply their own carts, the charges entered in the budget for the hire of 48 pairs of bullocks may be reduced by striking off the charges for 19 pairs of bullocks for No. 4 Division and 4 pairs for No. 6 Division thus making that item Rs. 3,000, instead of Rs. 5,760.

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore, (Financial),—dated 22nd August 1881.

The statement below gives the number of houses in each Division and also shows how many carts Dr. Orr and the Sanitary Inspector calculated were required for each Division :—

Division.	No. of Houses.	No. of Carts.
No. 1, Alsur Division	1,992	4
„ 2, Shule „	1,209	5
„ 3, Arab Lines and Fort Division ..	661	6
„ 4, General Bazar Division ..	6,047	19
„ 5, Blackpalli Division	1,655	10
„ 6, High Ground Division.. ..	175	4
Total.. ..	11,739	48

It will be seen that the population of Nos. 4 and 5 Divisions is higher than the others, No. 4 alone having as many houses as No. 1, 2 and 3 Divisions put together, and this explains how it is that more carts are required than were deemed necessary for No. 1, 2 and 3. Of the 27 carts budgeted for—

19 are for No. 4 Division.
4 „ „ 6 „
4 „ „ 3 „ to replace those now hired by the Municipality ; these carts will be constructed now and used next year.

The Municipal Commissioners of No. 1 and 2 Divisions inform me that the number of carts for their respective Divisions are insufficient, and I gather that the numbers were fixed without their being consulted.

There can be no doubt that when the regulation prohibiting the storage of manure in the station in pits in backyards. &c, is in full force, that many more carts will be required, and I propose making suggestions on the point later on when the regulation has been more fully enforced. Meanwhile it is admitted by Commissioners that a good deal more work might be got out of the existing carts ; so the Conservancy Department must be made to work the present number of carts more than is done.

Under head "Conservancy," provision was made for the conservancy carts at Rs. 65 each. Of the two description of carts made, those obtained at Rs. 75 each have proved to be of strong construction and equal to the work, therefore the Commissioners had entered into an agreement with the contractor for supply of 10 carts at Rs. 75 each and the advance of Rs. 400 made to him has been debited to the last year's allotment ; provision has been made in the budget for 1881-82 for the difference, and the cost of 27 new carts at Rs. 75 each.

The Sanitary Inspector has by an oversight failed to provide in his estimate for the hire of bullocks for 2 urine barrel carts at Rs. 16 each, and this omission has now been duly provided for in the budget, the total savings under this head amounts to Rs. 1,492.

By a reference to budget statement, appendix B for 1880-81, pages 4 and 9, it will be seen that the total cost of the Shule Pound and Market establishment amounted Rs. 300 as follows :—

1 Mutsaddi at Rs. 12 per mensem. Rs. 8 charged to Pound and Rs. 4 to Market.
1 Peon at Rs. 6 per mensem.
1 Toti at Rs. 5 per mensem and Contingencies Rs. 24.

In the budget for 1881-82 the total cost has been charged proportionately under head Markets Rs. 150 and Pounds Rs. 150 with a saving of Rs. 24 under head Contingencies, as forms and books supplied last year were available for use during the current official year.

The increase of one rupee in the salary of the Peon is due to the transfer of a 1st class Peon from the Head Office. The application of the Pound Toti for an increase of pay was sanctioned by Dr. Orr in consideration that the Toti attached to the other Pound was on receipt of Rs. 6 per mensem ; as the Toti is now on receipt of the increased salary, the Commissioners beg to recommend the same for the Resident's sanction.

During the previous years the supervision of the slaughter houses devolved on the Market Serjeant who received an allowance of Rs. 10 per mensem ; this allowance was withdrawn and 3 Peons have also been struck off the Market establishment. The entire control over the slaughter houses has since been placed under the Cattle Inspector allowing him an increase of pay, i. e. from Rs. 12 per mensem to Rs. 15. The Municipal Commissioners therefore hope that in consideration of the large savings shown under head Markets, the Resident will be pleased to accord his sanction to the small increase of Rs. 3 sanctioned by Dr. Orr, and now drawn by the Cattle Inspector.

As regards Peons for the Municipal Commissioners the Resident has disallowed the item, but I would beg he will reconsider the points on the following grounds :

Municipal Commissioners have a good deal to do in their respective Divisions in the way of inspecting houses being built or applications for lands, &c., and to do this it is necessary to have the parties present and it is difficult to get them without a peon as Commissioners naturally do not wish to use their private servants on Municipal work; then other matters on which their local knowledge is of great assistance are often referred to them for an expression of opinion; then living as they do in their Divisions, they often see breaches of the regulations being committed. It can be hardly expected that they will themselves trouble to go to court, but if they had peons at hand they might direct them to prosecute, then the peons would be messengers between them and the President, instead of Commissioners having to use their private servants. Altogether I think that one peon to each Municipal Division (Commissioners take it in turn by month to report on references, &c., from the President) is required.

A lump sum of Rs. 400 provided in the budget under head "Miscellaneous" is to defray the charges of numbering houses and supply of street boards and the same will be shown in detail in next year's budget. The allotment of Rs. 3,000 under head "Reserve" is to defray charges such as cholera or small-pox camps or for other unforeseen emergent works not otherwise provided for in the budget.

Resolution.—That the Budget Estimates may be revised in accordance with the above memorandum and re-submitted to the Resident for his favorable consideration and approval.

No. 1260-61—F. 448, DATED BANGALORE, 22ND AUGUST 1881.

ORDER.—In the Budget Estimates of the Municipality of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore for 1881—82 as first received in this Office, the receipts were estimated at Rs. 1,47,755 and the expenditure at Rs. 1,47,246, leaving a balance of Rs. 509 at the close of the year. The receipts included an estimated income of Rs. 8,000 from a tax on carriages, horses, &c., and tolls on the same which were recommended to be newly introduced during the current official year. The Resident was not prepared to allow the estimated income from the proposed taxes to stand in the budget, as previous sanction had not been obtained to their imposition, and the estimate of Rs. 8,000 from that source was struck out of the budget in Resident's Proceedings Camp No. 63, dated 31st May 1881. On the other hand, the estimated grant of Rs. 9,500 for the up-keep of suburban roads was raised by the Resident to Rs. 12,000, the amount allotted from the days of the famine for this purpose. The total estimate of receipts was thus reduced to Rs. 1,42,255.

2. The estimated income as thus reduced having been found insufficient to cover the estimated expenditure of Rs. 1,47,246, all unsanctioned items which had been included in the estimates of disbursements were struck out of the budget in the Proceedings of the Resident above referred to, and the whole amount of expenditure reduced to *Rs. 1,45,934, being still in excess of the income by Rs. 3,679; and the President of the Municipal Commission was asked to make up for the deficiency by reductions in the estimates on original public works proposed for the year.

*This figure was erroneously put down as Rs. 1,44,934 in the Resident's Proceedings Camp No. 63, dated 31st May 1881, and the deficit shown as Rs. 2,679.

3. The President of the Municipal Commission has now submitted revised Budget Estimates framed in such a manner that the estimated income covers the whole anticipated expenditure and leaves a surplus of Rs. 4,457 at the close of the year. The estimated receipts and expenditure are as noted below:—

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore, (Financial),—dated 22nd August 1881.

4. The estimate of receipts has been raised from Rs. 1,42,255 to Rs, 1,51,255, by an increase of Rs. 2,000 in the unexpended balance of the past year, which was put down in the budget as first submitted at Rs. 11,000, but has since been ascertained to be Rs. 13,000, and by an increase of Rs. 7,000 under the head "House-tax" being the amount of arrears due for the past year which was omitted in the budget originally submitted. The estimate of expenditure as revised in this Office is increased by Rs. 864, but the increase of Rs. 9,000 under the head of receipts makes up for this additional charge and the deficit shown in the Resident's Proceedings above referred to; and leaves a balance of Rs. 4,457 at the close of the year.

5. As compared with the receipts of the past year, the estimated income for the present year shows an increase of Rs. 16,169. The increase of Rs. 7,000 under the head "House Tax" simply represents the arrears of the past year which have yet to be collected, that of Rs. 4,240 which appears under "Tax on Professions and Trades" is due to certain beer tavern keepers who had before given up their licenses on the enhancement of the duty on beer, again resuming them on the reduction of the duty; and that of Rs. 8,000 under the head of "Probable balance at the beginning of the year" is owing to their having been but Rs. 5,000 shown in the budget of 1880—81, while it has been put down as Rs. 13,000 this year. The Officiating Resident is pleased to approve of the estimates of receipts.

6. Under the head of "Expenditure," it is observed that the pay of the Cattle Inspector under "Markets" has been raised from Rs 12 to Rs. 15 a month; and it is recommended that the increase which was given by Doctor Orr, the late Municipal President and is now drawn by the Inspector, be sanctioned, having in view the saving of Rs. 28 a month made under the head "Markets" and the fact that the officer has now the control of slaughter houses in addition to his other duties. The Officiating President is pleased to sanction the increase, but must remark that it was very objectionable on the part of the President to have sanctioned the expenditure in excess of the budget allotment without previously obtaining the sanction of the Local Administration.

7. There is a decrease of Rs. 300 under "head Office Charges," being the amount of contribution hitherto made towards the establishment and contingencies of the office employed on Municipal work in the Revenue Department of the late Chief Commissioner's Office. The decrease is due to the assignment of the Cantonment of Bangalore to the Government of India.

8. An increase of Rs. 8,969 over the estimate of the past year is observed under the head "Public Works" due chiefly to an increase of Rs. 2,265 under "Original Works," and of Rs. 6,000 under "Repairs to roads in the Station." The estimates submitted by the President are sanctioned and the notifications of sanction approved.

9. An increase of Rs. 2,973 appears under the head of "Conservancy" and this due to the extension more largely into the Municipality of the system of conservancy by departmental carts in preference to that carried out by contractors' carts.

10. Under the head of "Lighting" an increase of Rs. 725 is shown. There is decrease of Rs 1,200 in the charges for lighting the station owing to the contract having been given for this year at Rs. 1—7—0 per lamp, while it was given last year at Rs. 1—12—0 per lamp; but a larger provision (Rs. 2,300) is made for the purchase of lamp posts than was made last year (Rs. 375).

11. Under the head "XII Miscellaneous," the pay of the peon employed on the Mule Pound has been raised from. 6 to 7 Rs. and that of the Toti from 5 to 6 Rs. as it is reported that these increases were sanctioned by the late Municipal President and that the men are in receipt of the higher rate of pay, the increases are sanctioned, but it is hoped that in future the President will not incur any charges in excess of the budget grant without previously obtaining the Resident's sanction

12. The provision for orderlies to Municipal Commissioners is increased by

Proceedings of the Officiating Resident in Mysore, (Financial), dated 22nd August 1881.

Rs. 216. Five peons, one at 8, one at 7 and three at 6 Rs. were sanctioned under this head last year. The President now recommends the number of peons to be increased to 8, one at 8, one at 7, and 5 at 5 Rs and states that it is found necessary to nominate at least one peon for each Municipal Division There are only six Municipal Divisions and 6 peons would seem to be enough in accordance with this recommendation. Why 8 peons are provided for should be explained

13. The revised Budget Estimates are sanctioned subject to the above remarks and forwared to the Accountant General

W. J. CUNINGHAM,
Assistant to the Resident

To—The President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

Under head Market Establishment a saving of Rs. 264 have been effected by the withdrawal of the allowance hitherto drawn by the Market Serjeant, and the slaughter houses have now been placed under the direct superintendence of the Cattle Inspector allowing him a small increase for the extra work thus thrown upon him, and the services of 2 peons have also been dispensed with; the daily collection of Market rents having been farmed out to a contractor under the Resolution of the Municipal Commissioners under date 26th May 1880. A moiety of the salary of the Motcherri Pound Mutsaddi has been debited to Market as he is also employed in the collection of Market rents. There being no separate establishment for the collection of rents and conservancy of the Shule Market, a moiety of the Shule Pound Establishment charges has also been debited to Markets.

PART I.

OFFICE OF THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE.

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Resident in Mysore, (General),—dated 12th August 1881.

MEMORANDUM.

No. 1138—G. 404, DATED BANGALORE, 12TH AUGUST 1881.

The list of the principal stations of the Great Trigonometrical Survey of India situated in the Province of Mysore, herewith printed, has been revised and corrected in accordance with the instructions contained in letter No. 132—266, dated 11th February 1881, from the Deputy Superintendent of the Survey in charge of the Head-Quarter's Offices, Dehra Dun, who has, in a subsequent letter No. 651—1097, dated Mussoorie, 24th June 1881, intimated that the Annual Report on the condition of the stations for the year 1880, is "quite complete and satisfactory."

2. Appended to this memorandum is a Note by the Superintendent of the Great Trigonometrical Survey, dated Mussoorie, 6th June 1870, together with a Kanarese translation thereof, in which are detailed the measures to be taken for the protection of the principal stations situated in the Mysore Province. To this the special attention of Deputy Commissioners and of the Taluk officials concerned is requested.

3. The survey stations are not, as will be observed, to be kept in thorough repair, though their protection from wilful or preventable injury should in all circumstances be carefully looked to; the chief object being that the marked stones in their basements be kept undisturbed. The outward structures may, perhaps, from the influences of the climate, or from some other unavoidable causes, become injured, but this does not necessarily in itself render the station for topographical or revenue survey purposes useless, so long as the mark-stone in its centre is not disturbed. These outward structures being built of the cheapest material procurable in the locality, their falling down sooner or later may be anticipated; but, as pointed out in the Superintendent's Note: it should not be imagined that the station thereby has become useless and requires no further care: on the contrary, stations liable to injury, either from inferior construction, or from the severity of the climate of the locality in which they are situated, or from their own exposed positions, should be frequently visited by the village Shanbhog or Patel, in whose immediate custody the stations may be placed, and as often as convenient by the Amildar of the Taluk in which the stations lie; and, when necessary, one or other of the protective measures suggested in the Note referred to, at once adopted; for this reason therefore the Note should be carefully studied by all concerned.

4. By this means, the stations themselves will not only be kept in the best possible condition throughout the year, but when repairs become necessary, the cost of such repairs will seldom exceed the limit allowed by the Trigonometrical Survey Department, viz. Rs. 4, which Deputy Commissioners are authorized to incur without previous sanction. In the event, however, of its being impossible to execute the repairs to a station within the above limit, an estimate of the cost should at once be submitted to the Resident, accompanied by an explanation of the cause and nature of the injury, and of the necessity for the expenditure, with a view to the orders of the Trigonometrical Survey authorities being obtained as to whether the repairs, as estimated for, are desirable or requisite.

5. Advances for the expenditure incurred under these instructions may be obtained from Treasury Officers on receipts prepared in duplicate, the duplicate receipt being sent to the Comptroller as a voucher for the charge in the Treasury Officer's list of payments, and the original, together with the bill, to the Superintendent, Great Trigonometrical Survey, Dehra Dun; and, as directed by the Comptroller General in his Circular No. 3628, dated Calcutta, 6th August 1873, the duplicate or

Treasury Officer's voucher should be accepted by the Comptroller for payment, and forwarded in support of the debit in his accounts current; and, pending the receipt of a countersigned bill from the Superintendent, Great Trigonometrical Survey, the amount will be held under objection in the objection books of the Comptroller General's Office, but corresponding credit will, however, be afforded immediately on receipt of the accounts current referred to.

6. The due protection of the stations is, of course, entrusted to the Deputy Commissioners of the Districts in which the stations are situated; they should therefore satisfy themselves that the Amildars and the other native officials immediately concerned, thoroughly understand the protective measures suggested in the Note, and are able to carry such of them as may be required, into execution without delay. The Deputy Commissioners should also satisfy themselves that an eye is kept upon the stations throughout the year, which will not only ensure the stations being preserved in good order, but will further facilitate the punctual preparation of the annual condition returns, which should be submitted to this Office as soon after the 1st January as possible. In preparing these annual returns, Deputy Commissioners are particularly requested to report upon only the stations specified in the revised list, and on those only expenditure should be incurred. Copies of blank forms of annual returns may be obtained on application.

W. J. CUNINGHAM,
Assistant to the Resident.

Note by the Superintendent of the Great Trigonometrical Survey on the measures to be taken for the protection of the principal stations of the Trigonometrical Survey. dated Mussoorie, 6th June 1870.

(1.) Recommendations on this subject were submitted by the Superintendent. in his No. $\frac{37}{337}$, dated 22nd June 1865, and No. $\frac{45}{289}$, dated 13th June 1867, to the Government of India in the Home Department. They were approved and appear to have been generally circulated through the Local Governments and the Foreign Department, to District Officers, and the Native States.

(2.) In most instances measures have been carried out for the protection of the stations, in conformity with the suggestions contained in the letters above quoted. Still however in very many instances the object in view appears to have been forgotten or misunderstood, or the letters of instruction have either not reached the officers who are responsible for the protection of the stations, or they have been mislaid.

(3.) It has become necessary therefore to recapitulate these measures, and add further suggestions on points of detail, with a view to removing the misconceptions which frequently arise as to the nature of the operations, and to diminish the labor which falls on the Trigonometrical Survey

Office in replying to the very numerous references which it receives from all parts of India.

(4.) The mistake which is most commonly made is in supposing that the survey pillars or stations are to be kept in thorough repair. Proposals are frequently received from District Officers to rebuild a station de novo at a cost of several hundred rupees, whereas the available funds will not allow of a greater average expenditure than 4 or 5 rupees on each station; and this sum is amply sufficient for the purpose, for no object would be gained by preserving the stations in thorough repair, which would be at all adequate to the expense of so doing. A pillar which has fallen down, and is apparently no better than a heap of ruins, will still serve as a point of reference for the most exact and delicate operations of this survey, provided the markstones in its basement have not been disturbed; should the markstones have been removed, the station will still suffice as a point of reference for topographical and revenue survey purposes, if its centre can be ascertained within a few feet of the truth. A large expenditure is only justifiable when necessary to prevent a station from being entirely destroyed, as for instance by being carried away by a river.

(5.) Stations on flat ground are usually raised to a height of several feet, and, in general, they consist of a central pakka pillar surrounded by a katcha platform, the former to support the instrument, the latter the observatory tent and observer. The platform, being built of the cheapest materials procurable, is certain to fall down sooner or later, and, unfortunately, when this happens, people are ready to fancy that the structure is no longer of any use, and, under this supposition, not only the debris of the fallen platform, but the central pakka pillar itself—which is frequently unaffected by the fall of the platform—have been broken up and carried away by the villagers for building purposes. It is therefore necessary that stations should always be cared for and protected from wilful injury, even when they have fallen down, or are apparently in ruins.

(6.) Though it is not necessary that the stations should be kept in thorough repair or prevented from falling into ruins, by a large expenditure of money, it is desirable to take a few simple and inexpensive measures for the protection of the pillars and the still existing platforms from the weather, and the preservation of the markstones from mischief. These will depend on the structure of the stations, which, though generally as described in the commencement of the 5th para, occasionally differs in certain particulars. Each of the different forms will now be described, with the protective measures to be taken in each case.

(7.) Hollow towers of pakka masonry These are about 16 feet square, they rise to heights of from 30 to 60 feet, and have beams built into the walls near the summit for the support of the central pillar and platform, which forms a sort of a roof to the building. The platform is usually reached through a trap door by a series of ladders inside the tower, but when the ladders have given away, temporary ones can be put up outside. Protective measures.—Stop all cracks in the platform with mortar, close the trap door, and prevent rain from getting into the interior of the tower; block up the windows and more particularly the door in the basement; the ladders need not be renewed.

(8.) Solid towers of katcha masonry with a central solid pakka pillar. These are usually from 10 to 35 feet high; the pillar contains a series of markstones, one over another vertically, at intervals of a few feet, from the basement to the summit. Protective measures.—When the katcha masonry work is still standing and in good order, stop all cracks, through which water may percolate to the pillar, with mud, and cover over the summit of the tower with a pile of earth sloped away so as to carry off the rain-fall over the sides of the tower and prevent it from lodging inside. When the katcha masonry has entirely fallen, shape the ruins into a pyramidal mound round the pakka pillar as a centre for its protection from the weather and from wilful mischief. When the katcha masonry has fallen down on one side only, pull it down on the other side or it will be liable to overthrow the pillar by its weight. Cut down all trees and jungle growing over the station.

(6.) ಸ್ಟೇಷನ್‌ಗಳು ಭಾರೀ ಖರ್ಚಿನಿಂದ ಮುಟ್ಟಿಸಿ ಪೂರಾ ದುರಸ್ತು ಸ್ಥಿತಿಯಲ್ಲಿಡಬೇಕೆಂಬುದಾಗಲಿ, ಹಾಳಾಗದೇ ಇರುವಂತೆ ನೋಡಿಕೊಳ್ಳಬೇಕೆಂಬುದಾಗಲಿ, ಅನಾವಶ್ಯಕವಾದಾಗ್ಯೂ, ಕಂಭಗಳನ್ನೂ ಉಳಿದಿರುವ ಜಗಲೀಗಳನ್ನೂ ಜವಾ ಬೆಸೆಯಿಂದ ಕಾಪಾಡುವ ಬಗ್ಗೆ ಸುಲಭವಾಗಿಯೂ, ವಿಶೇಷ ಖರ್ಚವಿಲ್ಲದೆ ತಗಲಬೆಯೂ ಇರುವ ಕೆಲವು ಕ್ರಮಗಳನ್ನು ಮಾಡುವದೂ, ಮಾರ್ಕ್‌ಸ್ಟೋನ್‌ಗಳೆಂಬ ನಿಷಾನೀ ಕಲ್ಲುಗಳಿಗೇನೂ ಕೊಂದರೆ ಉಂಟಾಗದಂತೆ ಕಾಪಾಡುವದೂ, ಅವೇಕ್ಷಿಸತಕ್ಕ ಅಂಶವಾಗಿರುತ್ತೆ. ಇದಕ್ಕೆ ಸ್ಟೇಷನ್ ಕಟ್ಟಿರುವ ರೀತಿಯೇ ಮುಖ್ಯಕಾರಣವಾಗಿರುವದು, ಇದು ಸಾಮಾನ್ಯವಾಗಿ ಈ 5ನೇ ಕಲಮಿನ ಪ್ರಾರಂಭದಲ್ಲಿ ವಿವರಿಸಲ್ಪಟ್ಟಂತೆ ಆಗಾಗ್ಯೆ ಕೆಲವು ಅಂಶಗಳಲ್ಲಿ ವ್ಯತ್ಯಸ್ತಗಳಾಗುತ್ತವೆ; ಆಯಾ ನಮೂನೇಗಳ ಪೈಕಿ ಪ್ರತಿ ನಮೂನೇಯೂ, ಪ್ರತಿ ಸಂಗತಿಯಲ್ಲಿಯೂ ನಡಿಸತಕ್ಕ ಸಂರಕ್ಷಕಗಳಾವ ಕ್ರಮಗಳೂ ಈಗ ವಿವರಿಸಲ್ಪಡುತ್ತೆ.

(9.) Solid towers of kacha masonry, with a central perforated pakka pillar. The only difference between these stations and those last described is in the pillar, which has a vertical perforation or shaft down its centre, to enable an instrument to be plumbed over a markstone at the ground level; a vaulted passage is therefore carried through the kacha masonry and the pillar, to lead to the said markstone. Protective measures.—These should be precisely similar to what has been described in the last para, with the addition that the entrances to the vaulted passages leading to the ground level markstone ought invariably to be blocked up as solidly as possible, should they be found open.

(10) Low platforms of kacha materials with a central solid pakka pillar This is the most common form of structure, and it is invariably adopted when the station is on a hill or high mound; the platform is generally of earth and stone; the pillar is always pakka, without any perforation, circular, and with a diameter of 3 to 4 feet, constructed whenever practicable over a mark engraved on the rock in situ, and containing one or more markstones internally with another on its upper surface, the marks being plumbed to the same vertical line. Protective measures.—Repair the platform, remove vegetation and construct a pyramidal pile of earth and stones, with a base of about 7 feet square and height of 5 feet, over the pillar and partly resting on the platform.

(11.) Pakka pillars, circular above and square below. Such pillars, though usually only the central portion of the structure, as in paras 8 and 9, are sometimes constructed, in places where bamboos are plentiful, without a solid surrounding of kacha masonry, a temporary platform of bamboos being constructed round the pillar, which is removed when the observations are completed. Protective measures.—Block up the entrances of passages leading to the markstone, and prevent rain-fall from lodging anywhere in the vicinity of the pillar, dig a trench around, and throw the earth against the base of the pillar.

(12.) Pakka pyarmidal pillars about 2 feet square at base and 3½ feet high. These have been constructed of late years by the Survey Officers over the ordinary pillars, for their better protection. Protective measures.—Cover over with a pile of earth and stones as in (10).

(9). ರಂಧ್ರ ಮಾಡಲ್ಪಟ್ಟ ಮಧ್ಯದ ಪಕ್ಕಾ ಕಂಭ ಸಹಿತವಾ ಗಿರತಕ್ಕ ಕಚ್ಚಾ ಕಲ್ಲು ಕೆಲಸದ ಗಟ್ಟಿ ಟವರ್‌ಗಳು. ಈ ಸ್ಟೇಷ್ ಗಳಿಗೂ ಮೇಲೆ ವಿವರಿಸಲ್ಪಟ್ಟ ಸ್ಟೇಷ್‌ಗಳಿಗೂ ಕಂಭದಲ್ಲಿ ಮಾತ್ರ ವೇ ವೆತ್ಯಾಸವಿರುತ್ತೆ. ಸದರೀ ಕಂಭದ ಮಧ್ಯೆ ನೆಲಮಟ್ಟದಲ್ಲಿ ನಿಷಾನೀ ಕಲ್ಲಿನಮೇಲೆ ಆಯುಧವನ್ನು ನೆಟ್ಟಗೆ ಇಡುವದಕ್ಕೋಸ್ಕರ ನೆಟ್ಟಗೆ ಯಿರುವ ಒಂಯ ರಂಧ್ರ ಅಥವಾ ಭೂಮಿಯ ವಾಡೆಯಂತೆ ಇರುವ ಪಕ್ಷ ಇರುತ್ತದೆ. ಸದರೀ ನಿಷಾನೇ ಕಲ್ಲಿಗೆ ಜೋಗುವ ಬ್ಯೆ ಕಚ್ಚಾ ಕಲ್ಲುಕೆಲಸಕ್ಕೂ ಕಂಭಕ್ಕೂ ಲಗಾವಾಡ ಸುತ್ತಿನ ದಾರಾ ಇರುತ್ತದೆ. ಇವುಗಳನ್ನು ಕಾಪಾಡುವ ಕ್ರಮ ಹ್ಯಾಗಂದರೆ,— ಇದರ ಹಿಂದಿನ ಕಡೇ ಕಲಂನಲ್ಲಿ ವಿವರಿಸೋಣಾದ ಟವರ್‌ಗಳಿಗೆ ಸ ಮಾನಾಕಾರವಾಗಿ ಇರತಕ್ಕದ್ದು. ಪರಂತು ನೆಲಮಟ್ಟದ ಸದರೀ ನಿ ಷಾನೇಕಲ್ಲಿಗೆ ಹೋಗತಕ್ಕ ಸದರೀ ಮಾರ್ಗದ ದ್ವಾರವು ತೆಗೆದಿದ್ದರೆ ಅದನ್ನು ಯಾವಾಗ್ಯೂ ಪೂರಾ ಮುಚ್ಚಿಹಾಕಿ ಗಟ್ಟಿಪಡಿಸಿ ಬಿಡತಕ್ಕದ್ದು.

(13.) The above suggestions sufficiently indicate the nature of the measures to be taken in each instance; they are also applicable to cases in which the Survey Station is not precisely of either of the forms above described, but is a modification of some previously existing building, as a tower, mosque, or pagoda. It is very desirable that these measures should be explained to the Native officials of the villages in which the stations are situated; as they can be easily and inexpensively carried out by them, either under the orders of the District Officers, or of the Police authorities. The orders under which Executive Engineers were liable to be called on to repair the stations have been cancelled.

(14.) In certain cases a large expenditure is allowable to prevent the entire destruction of a station by special causes as the action of a river or water course. Reports of such cases should be made to the Trigonometrical Survey Office, when the necessary instructions will be communicated.

(15.) Returns of the condition of the stations are required to be made annually to the Superintendent of the Trigonometrical Survey; these returns should be sent in as soon as possible after the 1st of January; a convenient form for the return can be obtained on application to the Survey Office at Dehra Doon.

(16.) Several returns having been sent in which include a number of pillars that are not stations of the Trigonometrical Survey, and of which nothing is known in this Office, District Officers are particularly requested to restrict their attentions to the objects specified in the lists of stations which are sent out from this Office, at least as regards returns and bills sent into this Office, for the funds at the disposal of this Office will not suffice for the protection of all the pillars scattered over the three Presidencies, which may happen to bear some resemblance—either imaginary or real—to a Trigonometrical Survey Station.

(17.) The expenditure which is incurred in carrying out the measures above indicated will be defrayed as soon as the bills are sent in to this Office; advances from this Office in the first instance are not only unnecessary but are inconvenient, for further transactions arise whenever the advances exceed or fall short of the actual expenses; any expenditure, not exceeding an average of Rs. 4 per station, may be incurred annually, at the discretion of the District Officers, without prior reference to this Office.

(18.) In consequence of the numerous alteracions in the boundaries of Districts which have been made since the completion of the principal triangulation of this survey in certain Provinces, it occasionally happens that a station is no longer situated in the District to which it originally appertained, though, from the absence of any information on the subject, it is still returned in the list of stations for that District which is prepared in this Office. Any information regarding changes of this nature, or of errors which may be discovered in the lists, will be most thankfully received.

(19.) It should be remembered that one of the principal objects in view is to protect the stations from wilful injury. In some instances the marl.stones have been stolen, as they are usually smooth flat stones which are convenient for grinding curry powder; sometimes the pillars are destroyed for the sake of the materials, sometimes they are dug up out of mere curiosity, under the supposition that money is buried beneath. The District Officers are expected to prosecute and punish all persons who can be proved to have perpetrated any mischief of this nature, and to require the Native officials in the neighbourhood to protect the stations from injury.

(20). All letters and returns to the Superintendent of the Trigonometrical Survey on subject of the survey stations, should be addressed to his Office at Dehra Doon, N. W. P.

Proceedings of the Resident in Mysore, (Military),—dated 8th August 1881.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Mysore Local Force for 1880—81.

No. 1066—G. 381, DATED BANGALORE, 8TH AUGUST 1881.

REVIEW BY THE OFFG. RESIDENT.—The above read report which has been furnished by Colonel C. A. Benson relates to the last year of Lieutenant-Colonel R. C. Stewart's administration of the Local Force. Colonel Stewart was on leave from the 27th September 1880 to the 8th February 1881, but with that exception he was in command throughout the year.

2. As before there are three Cavalry Regiments and three Line Regiments of Barr Infantry, they comprised on the last day of the year 1,224 Cavalry and 1,942 Infantry of all ranks. The distribution of these regiments with head-quarters in Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga remained as in the previous year, the only reliefs being in the out-detachments. Troops were temporarily moved to Mysore also at the time of the Installation of His Highness the Maha Raja.

3. In clothing and equipment good progress has been made in supplying saddles of English pattern to the Siledars, and in serving boat cloaks to all both Cavalry and Infantry. The men pay for these eventually, but the Chanda Fund bears the cost in the first instance. The three funds, Chanda, Stable and Stallion, are all in a very flourishing state and each has a closing balance on the 1st April larger in amount than the opening balance of 1880.

4. The season was a very good one for the Kunigal Farm, fodder being plentiful and gram cheap. Seventy-three foals were born, of which sixteen died during the year, eight also of the 80 foals left at the end of 1879—80 died, and twenty-seven were sent to the ranks. The number left in the Farm at the end of the year was 101.

5. The chief matter of interest to be recorded with regard to the Infantry is the introduction of gratuities for men of all ranks who are discharged on medical certificates of unfitness for further service, having served for less than 30 years. Formerly in such a case they were discharged without provision; now they get a gratuity of three months' pay for every 5 years' service.

6. It is satisfactory to hear of men who had been discharged or transferred to the Police when the 4th Regiment was disbanded in March 1879 being re-enlisted still as vacancies occur. During this year ten discharged men and 39 Police were re-enlisted. There is no doubt that the alternative of enlistment in the Police which was presented to the men when the Regiment was disbanded was very little liked, though it had to be accepted; and it is therefore pleasing to find that every opportunity has been taken of mitigating the hardship.

Assistant Resident.

GENERAL.

TABULAR STATEMENT OF MATTERS OF ROUTINE FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1881.

No.	Subject and Order.	Date of Order.	Date of previous Orders.
1	A copy of the "Indian Law Reports," Allahabad Series, Vol. III., Part VII, July 1881, was forwarded to the Civil and Sessions Judge, Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.	1st Aug. 1881.
2	Copies of papers asked for were forwarded to B. Ramaswamaiengar, late Residency Sheristadar, (late) Mysore Chief Commissioner's Office, with the intimation that the Resident's letter to the Government of India, reporting on his case, could not be granted as it was a confidential communication.	Do do
3	The dirty state of the Bangalore Railway Station at the time of the arrival of the morning train from Madras was brought to the notice of the Agent, Madras Railway Company, and he was asked whether any order could be issued on the subject, or steps taken to remedy the evil.	Do do
4	In reply, Mahomed Khan, son of the late Galibelli Khan, Bakshi, Bangalore, was informed that the Officiating Resident would be glad to see him on the 3rd instant at 9 A M.	Do do
5	Mr. T. Rhenius, Bangalore, was told that the new grant for "Gillespie Tope" was reported to be ready, but its issue was delayed for want of the stamp fee due by him, and the President, Municipal Commission, had represented that Mr. Rhenius gave no reply to any communication made to him. He was therefore requested to send the fee (Rs. 30) to the President and let the matter be settled.	Do do	22nd July 1881, Part II, G.
6	Copies of the Officiating Resident's Review of the Annual Report of the Mysore Government Museum for 1880—81 were forwarded to the Dewan of Mysore.	Do do
7	The Director General of the Post Office of India was told, in reply, that the Officiating Resident shared his regret at the failure of the Police to detect the theft committed last September in the Post Office in Bangalore. Every effort had been made by the Superintendent of Police to obtain a clue, and his endeavours would not be relaxed. The nature of the stolen property, and the circumstances of the theft, both rendered the case a difficult one to detect.	Do do
8	In reply, Mahomed Usuf and sons, residing in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, were informed that application had been made to the Government of India to remedy the grievance they complained of.	Do do
9	The Dewan of Mysore was asked to furnish the Resident with the proposals which had been made for the employment of Sisters of Charity as trained Nurses in the Bowring Civil Hospital.	Do do had been no deaths among the European pensioners residing within the jurisdiction of the Government of His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore.

13	The Dewan of Mysore was again asked to submit Mr. Hudson's letter regarding surplus copper coin in Mysore.	2nd Aug. 1881.
14	Copy of a Circular of the Government of India, Public Works Department No. 10, dated 4th July 1881, forwarding copy of Finance and Commerce Department Resolution explaining the procedure to be followed in obtaining for the public service supplies of stores of other than Indian origin or manufacture, was forwarded to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, Public Works Department.	Do do
15	In reply, the Deputy Conservator of Forests, Coimbatore, was informed that the Government of Mysore understood his meaning, but expressed a wish that the advertisement sent to the Mysore Gazette should be the same as that published in the local newspapers, their view being that if a short one was enough for the newspapers it was not necessary to advertise at greater length in the Gazette.	Do do	21st July 1881, Part II, G.
16	The Resident's Political Diary for the week ending 30th July 1881 was submitted to the Government of India, Foreign Department.	Do do
17	Copy of a letter from the Government of India, Foreign Department, remarking on the quarterly return of accidents on the Mysore State Railway, was forwarded to the Dewan of Mysore, in view to his instructing the Manager, Mysore State Railway, to send in the returns correctly and with punctuality.	Do do	28th June 1881, Part II, G.
18	It was ordered that the appointment of K Ramachandra Rao, Manager of the Office of the District Superintendent of Police, Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, to the post of Native Inspector of the Station should have effect from the 1st July 1881.—Communicated to the District Superintendent of Police, Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, and the Officer in charge of Her Majesty's Treasury.	Do do	25th July 1881, Part II, G
19	In reply, the Sub-Collector of North Arcot, in charge Stipened Pay Office, Vellore, was furnished with a copy of a communication from the Officer in charge of Her Majesty's Treasury, Bangalore, reporting on the genuineness of the marriage of Kathija Begum with Fasal Ali Bég.	3rd do	30th May 1881, Part II, G.
20	Copy of a Circular of the Government of India, Public Works Department No. 933 G., dated 12th July 1881, relative to the grant of leave to officers of the Royal Engineers for passing examinations required by Military Regulations for promotion, was forwarded to the Dewan of Mysore for communication to the Superintending Engineer in Mysore.	Do do

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, (General),—dated 11th August 1881.

READ—

Annual Report by the Inspector General of Registration in Coorg for the year 1880-81

No. 736—G 131, DATED BANGALORE, 11TH AUGUST 1881.

REVIEW BY THE OFFICIATING CHIEF COMMISSIONER.—The number of documents registered in Coorg for the past three years has been very steady. The 507 documents registered in 1880-81 exhibit a decrease of 8 in the number of the previous year, three of them are documents of which the registration is compulsory and 5 are documents relating to immovable property of less than 50 Rs. value. The number of documents relating to movable property is 29 as in the previous year.

2 Registration does not appear to be advancing in Coorg. In the two years preceding the last three there was certainly a considerable increase in registrations, but that was evidently due to abnormal causes, and neither the reduction of fees on certain classes of documents nor a general appreciation of the benefits of registration has yet affected the results. On the other hand it can hardly be the case that the increase of fees chargeable on the registration of deeds affecting immovable property of more than 200 Rs. value has prevented documents of that nature from being registered because in the case of those registration is compulsory.

3. The value of property to which the registered deeds relate fluctuates greatly. In 1879-80, the 59 documents relating to movable property represented Rs 4,66,473 giving an average value of Rs. 7,906 per document; in 1880-81 the same number of documents represented only Rs. 1,54,069 value and the average of each document was Rs. 2,611. In documents relating to immovable property the difference is not so great, but there too the average has fallen from Rs. 1,713 to Rs. 1,524. This is said to be accidental, but the reason of the great difference in average value of the movable property is ascribed to the shortness of the coffee crop; the documents registered being principally hypothecations of crop.

4. With the marked decrease in the value of property affected by the registered deeds there has naturally been a falling off in the realization of fees and the income of Rs. 3,323 is less than that of the preceding year by Rs. 229, but the economy instituted by the substitution of a paid establishment in the Offices of the Registrars of North and South Coorg, for an establishment paid by commission, has more than balanced the loss, and expenditure amounting to Rs. 1,644 against Rs. 2,011 left a surplus of Rs. 1,679. The percentage of expenditure upon income was 49·47.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 8th September 1881.

READ—

Proceedings No. 9620 of the 20th December 1876 regarding the enfranchisement of Kodigi Inams.

No. 4816-24—138, DATED BANGALORE, 8TH SEPTEMBER 1881.

ORDER.—The enfranchisement of Kodigi Inam lands was ordered in the belief that the inamdars who held but a portion of the lands under the tanks in inam and were often in poor circumstances with divided interests, did not take sufficient interest in maintaining the tanks in good repair. This, it is believed, is the general condition of things, and the enfranchisement was not only necessary to provide adequate arrangements for the efficient maintenance of the tanks in which numbers of ryots are interested, but also beneficial to the inamdars themselves who get their inam lands confirmed to them though subject to a quit-rent, but are relieved of the obligation of repairing the tanks at a considerable outlay.

2. It is however understood that the kodigidars in a few cases are not satisfied with this settlement which severs their connection with the tanks which had been constructed by their ancestors and which they consider it a point of honor to keep up. His Highness' Government considers that the enfranchisement should not have been compulsorily introduced in such cases. The Dewan therefore desires that the Deputy Commissioners will institute an enquiry into such cases during the ensuing jamabandi settlement and submit a list of the cases in which the kodigidars would prefer to retain their inams on the old tenure subject to the obligation of keeping the tanks in an efficient state. It should be clearly pointed out to them that the responsibility of repairing the tanks will be strictly enforced and that the resumption of the inams would follow in the event of their failing in their obligations.

3. The statement submitted should show the extent of the wet lands irrigated by the tanks, the portion of them held in kodigi inam and the quit-rent imposed on it, the present condition of the tank and the wishes of the ryots as regards the restoration of the tank to the kodigidar's management and any outlay which may have been incurred by Government on the repairs of the tank since the inam enfranchisement, and any other facts which the kodigidars may wish to urge on the subject.

SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT COMMR.'S OFFICE,
DATED POONA, 7th March 1881.

From

The Honorable Colonel W. C. Anderson,
Survey and Settlement Commissioner, Mysore.

To

The Revenue Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward the appended letter* with appendices from the Superintendent of the Mysore Revenue Survey containing proposals for the survey settlement of the Múdgere Taluk of the Kadur District.

* No. 55 of 26th January 1881.

2. This Taluk is bounded by the western ghats and is a completely Malnad tract of country. The cultivation is of the nature usually found in such tracts; rice is the staple grain; supari, cardamoms, coffee and some sugar-cane comprise the more valuable products. The population is very sparse, 52 only to the square mile on the total area, as is always the case in tracts of country containing much uninhabited hill and jungle. On the cultivated area the average population amounts 486 to the square mile, an unusually high proportion, due to the nature of the cultivation requiring so large a proportion of hand labor. The Superintendent in para 13 remarks on the alleged decreass in the population since the famine, the figures of the Census of 1871 showing a population of 34,252 souls, while the enumeration taken at the time of classification in 1879—80 was only 21,872 showing an apparent decrease of more than one-third of the population. This decrease the Superintendent does not believe in seeing that the taluk is a healthy one and so far as drought was concerned it was not touched by the famine of four years ago. But we have found the same result in parts of the Bombay Presidency, namely a large apparent decrease of population in taluks which were but slightly or not at all touched by the drought and therefore having fair and in many cases excellent crops when in the mass of the country there were none; really so far as the agricultural population went the people benefited rather than suffered from the scarcity elsewhere.

3. But at the time of the famine whether there were crops or not, there was no great difference in prices in different localities; the general failure of the grain crops induced very high prices everywhere. The statement at para 19 of the Superintendent's letter shows this as regards rice, unfortunately he does not give the figures relating to ragi, the common food grain; the increase of price in that would pretty certainly be much greater in proportion than the price of rice. Very high prices are of course all to the advantage of the producers of grain and do not materially affect their immediate dependants and farm servants who are usually fed by their masters; but as regards the loose laboring population attached to no particular farm or person, the effect of high prices is just the same as if they resulted from a drought in the Taluk instead of at a distance, all those for whom there is no work in the taluk will go elsewhere in search of employment and will probably only return to a part to extent and gradually.

4. To the above cause I attribute a great part of the apparent decrease in the population, some part of it is possibly due to incorrect enumeration as surmised by the Superintendent. But the large proportion to the cultivated square mile now remaining, 486, clearly shows that the numbers above this must have been to a great extent surplus and above the wants of the country and consequently on the occurrence of very high prices this surplus population found it necessary to go elsewhere in search of employment.

5 At para 18 of the Superintendent's letter is a tabular statement showing the revenue history of this taluk for the last twenty-five years. The collections from 1855—56 up to the last three years exhibit very small fluctuations compared with what has been commonly observed in taluks out in the open country. The old assessment, it is clear, from the data afforded by the survey, was on the average very light indeed. In modern times especially there must certainly have been a large extension of the cultivated area from the general opening up of the country. The confusion in the old revenue system as referred to in para 6 of the Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 642 of the 23rd August last, appended to the Superintendent's letter, afforded every facility for influential persons escaping payment of their just dues; practically the whole revenue administration was in the hands of the Shanbhogs who were the sole depositories of any information bearing on the subject.

6. The grouping of villages for different rates and the rates of assessment proposed for each group are fully explained in the Superintendent's 25th to 27th paras and the statement at para 28 shows the estimated revenue result on the area asserted to be occupied last year.

7. The general result is as follows compared with the realizations under the old system last year.

	Rs.
Land revenue for 1879—80.	51,669
Survey assessment of lands asserted to be occupied	78,377

8. This shows a very large increase on the demand on the occupied area. But from the above sum of Rs 78,377 we have to make several deductions before we can really arrive at what may be called the true sum to be placed in comparison with the past collections.

9. We must first estimate about Rs 5,000 as required for the remuneration of the village officers. This sum goes back into the taluk and moreover frees the ryots from all claims on account of the direct grain levies of the village officers, the system of paying which however ordinarily exists to a very partial degree only in the Malnad. Next we have to allow for land, referred to in paras 22 and 34 of the Superintendent's letter, returned to the survey as occupied but really not occupied hitherto, but claimed as occupied at the time of the survey in order to secure the refusal of it at the settlement. At a moderate estimate we may include land assessed at Rs. 8,000 under this head and very possibly a still higher amount. Some of this land may probably be resigned at the settlement and some may be retained; all that is retained may be looked on as a pure addition to the area hitherto really occupied.

Para 41.

10. For the irrigation fund it is proposed to set apart the sum of Rs. 1,126.

11. We have thus the deductions shown in the margin to make from the total revenue according to the survey on the land returned as occupied to the survey, a total sum of Rs. 14,126 which deducted from the total survey revenue shown above in para 7, Rs. 78,377, gives Rs. 64,251 as the revenue under the settlement to be placed in comparison with the revenue collected in 1879—80, Rs. 51,669, an increase of Rs. 12,588 or about 24 per cent.

	Rs
Village Officers	5,000
Land hitherto not really occupied	8,000
Irrigation Fund.	1,126
	14,126

12. There can be no doubt about the moderation of the rates of assessment proposed and that this taluk has been hitherto both lightly and very unequally assessed. The rates now proposed are in accordance with those already imposed in adjacent settled taluks, but decidedly lower in consequence of the wilder nature of the country.

Para 42.

13. The one anna local cess will bring in Rs. 5,020 against Rs. 3,385 hitherto obtained from the same cess. It is to be hoped that the judicious expenditure of this cess will in a very few years do much to open out to the taluk generally communications with the main lines of road traffic.

Para 40.

14. I now beg to recommend this proposed settlement to the favorable consideration of the Chief Commissioner; it is not often that we can hold so fair a promise of financial success as is now offered by the imposition of very moderate rates of assessment and the introduction of administrative order in the place of the Shanbhogs' rule of disorder profitable to them alone.

15. I beg that these papers may receive early consideration and that the Chief Commissioner's order may be communicated direct to the Superintendent, Major Grant.

I have the honor to be
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,
W. C. ANDERSON,
1 Settlement Commissioner, Mysore.

No. 55.

SURVEY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Bangalore, 26th January 1881.

From

MAJOR J. P. GRANT,

Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

To

THE HONORABLE COLONEL W. C. ANDERSON,

Survey and Settlement Commissioner of Mysore.

SIR,

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment of 116 villages of the Múdgere Taluk of the Kadur District, representing the still unsettled portion of that taluk. Múdgere is a new taluk, formed in 1876 by contributions from the Taluks of Chikmagalur, Belur and Manjarabad. The Magani of Gonibid has already been brought under settlement at the time when it formed part of the Belur Taluk.

2. Excluding then the Magani of Gonibid the portion of the Múdgere Taluk now reported on is divided into the following Maganis or ancient sub-divisions :—

Ancient Sub-divisions.

Number.	Name of Magani.	Government Villages.	Coffee Estates.	Total.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6
1	Múdgero	35	4	39	There are no inam villages or kavals.
2	Banakal	28	3	31
3	Melbangadi	17	5	22
4	Kalasa	21	1	22
5	Bidarnad	15	...	15
5	Total.....	116	13	129

General description.

3. The villages under report occupy one of the most mountainous tracts in the whole Province. The Kalasa Magani, alone comprising nearly 200 square miles, resting upon and forming part of the western ghats, is an especially wild tract, hemmed in, on every side but the east, by some of the best known and loftiest peaks of the ghat country. On the north and separating it from the Koppa Taluk is the hill of Kalasa, known as the Mertigudda (5,451 feet). On the extreme south-west where the Taluks of Koppa and Múdgere join on the Canara frontier, is the celebrated Ganga Múla, the common source of the Tunga and the Bhadra. On the south is the Kudare Mukh (6,215 feet) and still to the south and a little east of the Kudare Mukh is the range of Balalrayandurga (4,940 feet). These prominent peaks seem to have thronged together to render Kalasa one of the wildest and most imposing bits of scenery in the whole of Mysore. On proceeding eastward the country, although still wild, becomes more open but yet thoroughly Malnad. The most accessible portion of the taluk is the Bidarnad Magani, but even there the characteristics are only semi-Malnad.

Drainage.

4. The drainage is into the Bhadra which flows through the heart of the Kalasa Magani and then leaves the taluk. The Yegachi river which, so long as it is in the taluk, is known as the Brinjihalla, takes its rise in the hills near Ainur. This river afterwards joins the Hemavati river which also takes its rise in the tract under report. In fact the water shed of two distinct river systems, the one flowing north and other south-east, exists in the great central hill range which begins near Balalrayandurga and then runs north.

Forests.

5. The tree vegetation is comparatively poor, none of the forests approaching in importance those of Lakvalli to the north and further on upon the banks of the Bhadra. The sholas and ravines are well wooded however, and there are many hanging woods on the hill sides which impart great beauty to the landscape.

Productions.

6. The productions of the tract under report are of great importance, comprising coffee, betel-nut, cardamoms, rice and sugar-cane, the last mentioned in very limited quantity.

Gardens.

7. The gardens produce betel-nut and cardamoms, all those of any value being confined to the Kalasa Magani, in the sheltered valleys of which they arrive at great perfection, Kalasa betel-nut being everywhere famous. Cardamoms are indigenous to the jungles in many parts of the Taluk and of late years their cultivation has been more systematically undertaken. Cardamoms have been grown in the betel-nut gardens from a much older date.

Wet lands.

8. In the wet lands rice is the staple crop, sugar-cane being found only in small patches. The rice is dependent chiefly on springs on the hill sides from which water courses are led and upon the perennial hill streams which, in the western parts, often admit of a double crop being annually taken off the same field The water-supply generally is abundant. Tanks are of very rare occurrence excepting to the extreme east near the comparatively open country.

Dry crops.

9. Dry crops are of no account and, even in the Bidarnad Magani where they are alone cultivated, they cannot be said to thrive. This of course is due to the well known unsuitability of the climate of the Malnad for dry cultivation.

Coffee.

10. Coffee cultivation is held in great importance, all the essentials to its successful cultivation being present in the tract under report. Some 40,000 acres are held on coffee patta, of which about 6,000 acres represent the larger European estates, and 34,000 acres the smaller estates and "Hittalus."

Communications.

11. The villages under report are all fairly within reach of made-roads. The most marked exceptions are the western villages of Kalasa and the southern most villeges of Banakal, as a glance at the map will show. These villages however, although possessing no made-roads, are favorably situated for an exchange of commodities with the low country of Canara, with which they are in direct communication through the hill passes which have become familiar and easy to them from long usage. Many of the Patels and leading ryots, it is well known, prefer effecting their bargains below the ghats, in person, to seeking any of the markets above. Compared however with the more opened up parts of the Taluk, from which produce can be carried away on a large scale by wheeled vehicles, these outlying villages labor under great disadvantages, but still their direct communication with the low country must be the source of some benefit to them. There are markets at Múdgere, Banakal and Sunksalu.

Statistics.

12. The following statement, compiled from the classing returns, contains some information calculated to show the agricultural resources of the villages under report :—

Number of Villages.	Houses.	Population.	Square Miles.	Cattle.	Ploughs.	Carts.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
116	5,090	21,872	*425	28,187	4,658	45	There are 3 local markets. * Including coffee estates separately measured.

Population.

13. It is well known that Múdgere was not injuriously affected by the famine; on the contrary many of the cultivators must have reaped a rich harvest owing to the high prices then prevalent. A strange discrepancy however appears between the census figures of 1871 and those of the classing census, the former showing a population of 34,252 and the latter of only 21,872. The difference can only be accounted for by incorrect enumerating and I am inclined to believe that the classing figures are more likely to be incorrect as the lands and especially the various homesteads are scattered in every direction. I do not for an instant believe that an actual difference of over 12,000 exists between the population of 1871 and the present population. The population on the classing figures is about 52 to the square mile and is of course very unequally distributed, being comparatively dense in Múdgere and Bidarnad, about the average in Melbangadi, a little less in Banakal and least of all in Kalasa. Looking however at the cultivated area only there are on the whole about 486 people to the square mile, the highest figures (655) being in Banakal and the lowest (350), owing to the presence of a good deal of dry crop land, in Bidarnad. Kalasa the next lowest has 440 to the square mile of cultivated area, so that the unequal distribution of the population on the whole area is evidently due to the larger proportion of jungle in the wilder country to the west. If we accept the census figures of 1871, the results will be more favorable than above shown.

Condition of the people.

14. The condition of the people I look upon as one of prosperity. They are as usual pretty heavily in debt, but, judged from the standard of comfort point of view, their circumstances compare favorably with most Taluks yet brought under settlement. The climate is a good one and there is little sickness. There can be no doubt moreover that coffee has done a good deal for the country in providing labor for those who want it, in attracting a good deal of trade and leading indirectly no doubt to the opening up of the country by means of roads which might otherwise never have been made.

Past revenue management

15. The Deputy Commissioner at para 3 of his letter gives an account of the past revenue management which tallies very strictly with the account given by Major Montgomery in his memorandum on the Malnad of the Ashtagram Division written in 1839. Every effort appears to have been made to take as large a contribution to the Imperial revenue as possible from the villages concerned, but it cannot surprise any one acquainted with revenue matters that the attempt, in the absence of any record of area, should have been foiled by the Shanbhogs or, more correctly speaking, by the Patels. I find the following in Major Montgomery's memorandum which is so accurately borne out, as I shall presently show by applying the test of actual survey, that it is well worth quoting. "The Patels have now no acknowledged umbhs, the whole having been resumed by Púrnaiya, but there is no doubt they possess the best lands and manage to keep them assessed much under their real value." Again quoting from the memorandum in question I find "Para 102. The nature of the Malnad country, its climate, the constitution of its society, the character of its inhabitants and the absence of any correct account of paimayish and assessment, all conspire most materially to render it very difficult for the Government to obtain any true account of the land under cultivation. Para 103. None but the village servants can possibly know or even find out by inspection, the numerous little valleys which, sometimes at a distance from any habitation, and far apart from each other, form in the aggregate the lands included in the accounts; and however anxious an Amildar may be to make himself personally acquainted with the country, the fatigue of traversing the mountains, and the wet and cold to which he is subjected, are generally sufficient to damp his ardour, especially if he be a Brahman from the plains; for to him the labor and the climate would alike be insupportable." Paras 104 to 107 of the same memo are well worthy of perusal as they apply to, and were written specially regarding some at least of the very villages under report. However great the anxiety of former Governments to get in an enhanced revenue, there can be no doubt the absence of any survey defeated their purpose.

Old collections on garden and rice lands.

16. I now come to apply the test of actual survey to the old collections on the rice and garden lands, magani by magani. Dry crop I have left out of my calculations as too insignificant to be noticed :—

Magani.	Garden.			Rice.
	Acres by Survey.	Old Collections.	Average Rate.	Acres by Survey.	Old Collections.	Average Rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Múdgere	112	140	1 4 0	5,850	12,102	2 1 1
Banakal . ..	55	38	0 11 1	3,817	6,759	1 12 4
Melbangadi	146	609	4 2 9	3,933	4,872	1 3 10
Kalasa	1,187	5,130	4 5 2	5,915	10,732	1 13 0
Bidarnad	22	...	...	3,467	10,029	2 14 3
Total.....	1,522	5,917	3 14 2	22,982	44,494	1 15 0

Let the above be compared with the existing rates given at para 6 of the Deputy Commissioner's letter and the conviction must follow, either that there has been gross concealment of cultivation, or that the old rates are purely nominal. Supposing the rates given by the Deputy Commissioner to be fallacious, and I certainly do not place much reliance on them, there still remains the fact of the rates, as now elicited by applying the survey area to the old collections, being not only inadequate but unequal. It is worthy of remark that in the Bidarnad Magani where the rates are highest, some attempt to arrive at an assessment, ryotvar, was made in old times, while in the remaining maganis the shist for the whole village seems to have been fixed and then the shares payable by individuals settled amongst themselves.

17. Under such circumstances as the above there seems no object in raking up instances in illustration of the confusion and inaccuracy of the old accounts and system of assessment. It will suffice to consider presently what rates can be adopted which shall be both moderate and justifiable by experience in taluks adjoining and already settled.

18. The realizations for the last 25 years are shown below:—

Remarks on past collections and prices.

20. The permanent remissions are of the character usual in Malnad Talukas already frequently described in former reports. The remissions on account of poverty, failure of crops and such like causes, are so insignificant as to require no particular notice. The first point of real importance is that during the last few years, since 1875, there has been a sudden and marked increase in the realizations. This is accounted for by the substitution, by the Inam Department, of ready money payment for certain land inams, the latter being entered as Government. The total amount thus resumed comes to about Rs. 3,000 by which amount we may consider the collections to have been abnormally increased.

The collections, leaving this sum out of sight, have remained remarkably steady with a general tendency to increase, owing to rising prices and a certain climate. In fact if Rs. 3,000 represent the assessment of the land for which money payment has been substituted by the Inam Department, and as I have got my information direct from that Department these figures are likely to be correct, the collections of 1878—79 are the highest ever known. There can be no doubt that the revenue has been realized with comparative ease and that the lump sum hitherto taken as revenue on the villages under report, although most unequally distributed, has not borne at all heavily as a whole.

Actual results of survey.

21. Before going any further I must exhibit the actual results of survey as calculated to throw light, not only upon the past revenue management, but also to afford some idea of what we may expect, in the way of resignations of land, at the pending settlement :—

Uncupied rice land

22. The small proportion of rice land pointed out by the wargdars as unoccupied is remarkable. It will be seen further on that this unoccupied land is of poor quality compared with that in occupancy. The Magani of Melbangadi has only 12 acres of rice land unoccupied. The obvious conclusion is that there must be a great deal of what is usually known as "Waste in Warg" and that the extent now pointed out as occupied is liable to considerable decrease at the settlement, according to the caprice or necessity of the wargdars who will of course only retain what they really require.

Comparison of survey area with the old accounts.

23. If statements A, B and C. given in the Deputy Commissioner's letter be compared with survey results we have the following:—

Description.	Acres occupied according to Taluk Accounts.	Acres actually occupied as pointed out at time of survey.
Garden	725	1,522
Rice	8,147	22,982
Dry crop	402	4,179
Total.....	9,274	28,683

Making every reasonable allowance for inaccuracy, the difference is enormous. I do not place the slightest reliance upon the accuracy of the Krishnaraj bijvari extent shown in the old accounts, and would not conclude that there had been great concealment of cultivation, on the sole ground of great discrepancy between the area in the old accounts and that now ascertained by survey. I find that the unoccupied area according to the old accounts is 1,962 acres, while by survey it becomes 5,511 acres In fact the area, whether occupied or unoccupied, is greatly under-stated in the accounts. That this should be the case as regards unoccupied lands is not at all surprising, for we invariably find that the record of waste lands is very imperfect in Mysore ; but, in the case of occupied lands, the difference shown to exist in the villages under report is unreasonable in the extreme. No doubt the fault lies mainly in the incorrect conversion of the local into Krishnaraj bijvari, but at the same time, when we find, as I have already shown by applying the results of actual survey to the old collections, that in no two maganis are the rates at all similar or, if dissimilar, justifiable by the relative circumstances of the two localities, and when the land occupied is found to be more than three times greater in area than recorded in the accounts, no one can doubt that there must have been extensive evasion of any thing approaching a fair assessment.

Old average rates based on survey area.

24. There is in fact in these villages a total absence of useful information for the objects of the present report. Neither the recorded area nor the nominal rates give the slightest clue to existing state of things. We must therefore fall back upon the actual realizations and apply to them the test of actual area by survey :—

Description.	Acres by Survey.	Old Collect[s] as.	Average Rate.
1	2	3	4
Garden	1,522	5,917	3 14 2
Rice	22,982	44,494	1 15 0
Dry crop	4,179	1,258	0 4 10
Total.....	28,683	51,669	1 12 10

Considering the well known excellent quality of the garden produce and the importance of the tract under report as a rice growing country well opened up by roads, the above rates are decidedly low. It must also be borne in mind that the average rates, as above elicited, are not the result of any equal distribution of the assessment, but that every possible effort had been made to extort as much revenue as possible, and that the wargdars escaped their fair share in the distribution of the assessment in proportion to their local influence. As a matter of course much inequality is found to pervade the old assessment generally, as some illustrations which I hope to give further on, will amply prove.

Grouping of villages and maximum rates.

25. For distributing the lump assessment which I am about to propose I would divide the villages under report into the following groups, with maximum rates for dry crop, rice and garden as indicated opposite each group :—

Group.	Villages.	Maximum Rates on— Dry Crop.	Rice.	Garden.
1	2	3	4	6
I.	38	1 0 0	6 0 0	16 0 0
II.	19	1 0 0	5 0 0
III.	20	0 12 0	4 0 0
IV.	39	0 12 0	3 8 0
4	116

The first group is composed of the Badarnad Magani and the best situated villages of the Mudgere Magani, all of which are more accessible and enjoy greater facility of communication generally than the rest of the villages reported on.

The second group consists of villages a little less favorably situated than those of the first group. These are the remaining villages of the Mudgere Magani and the more accessible villages of the Banakal Magani.

The third group consists of villages still further west and more remote from roads and are situated chiefly in the Malhanadi and Banakal Maganis

The 4th and last group comprises the whole of the Kalasa Magani and the worst portions of the Maganis of Banakal and Melbangadi.

26. It will be observed that considerations of distance from roads and markets, and general accessibility have been chiefly taken into account in the above grouping. The climate is favorable throughout for rice and no where very favorable for dry crops and I have not found it necessary to adopt any different grouping for wet and dry cultivation. For garden the maximum rate proposed is Rs. 16, but I have allowed due weight to the circumstances of each village and have in no case found occasion to impose the maximum rate o Rs. 16. There is no garden dependent on wells but only the ordinary betel-nut garden of the malnad and one maximum rate is therefore sufficient.

27. With reference to the suitability of the maximum rates now proposed, compared with rates already sanctioned in adjoining taluks, it will be observed that those in my first group are lower than those in the adjoining villages of the Chikmagalur and Belur Taluks, the reasons for which arrangement will be given later on.

28. The imposition of the rates above proposed will give the following results on the Government occupied lands of all descriptions.

These unoccupied lands, as I have already observed in para 22, exhibit a marked inferiority to the occupied lands and are comparatively limited in extent.

32. The general effect of my proposals will be understood by comparing the average rates of assessment for the whole taluk as formerly realized with those now proposed, the basis of calculation in both instances being the survey area.

General effect of proposed settlement.

Total.....	28,683	51,669	1 12 10	78,377	2 11 9

33. It will be observed that the average rate for garden lands is doubled by the operation of the proposed settlement, and yet that, although thus increased, it only amounts to Rs. 8—4—3 per acre. The truth is that the increase is due to pure concealment, many of the gardens never having been brought to book in the old accounts. The rates locally recognized as fair are far higher than anything I have imposed on garden lands. For the Kalasa Magani, for instance, the highest rate on gardens given by the Deputy Commissioner, as at present existing, is Rs. 22—14—8 and the lowest Rs. 10 per acre. The scale for the assessment of garden lands, proposed by me, is headed by Rs. 16 and in the Kalasa Magani, where all the really good gardens are to be found, my average rate is only Rs. 8—13—3. These gardens, it must be borne in mind, are of a high class containing in many cases a profusion of betel-nut trees with a large admixture of cardamoms. There are of course also some gardens of inferior description and others nearly exhausted, but still the average rate of Rs. 8—13—3, all things considered, must be looked upon as very moderate. The gain on the garden lands, under my proposals, is in round numbers about Rs. 6,000, is perfectly justifiable and will be paid without difficulty or pressure of any kind.

34. As regards the rice lands, a rise from Rs. 1— 15—0 to Rs. 2—12—7 per acre may perhaps at first sight appear great, but if the survey rates be compared with the rates given by the Deputy Commissioner at para 6, the latter will be found to be infinitely higher, rising in some instances to Rs. 8 or 9 per acre. The tract under report contains a comparatively large proportion of good low lying rice land called "Thaggu," also a fair proportion of double crop land and, for the greater part, enjoys considerable facilities of communication. I cannot therefore consider an average of Rs 2—12—7 per acre at all too high for rice land. As I have before observed I think the wargdars have pointed out as occupied every acre of land they possibly could, whether covered by their pattas or not, and a good deal of it is no doubt waste and likely to be resigned at the settlement.

35. The increase in the assessment of the dry lands under my proposals is too insignificant to require notice.

Kans and Hasarvani Gardens.

36. In the Deputy Commissioner's letter, Statement D, the realizations under the head "Hasarvani" and "Kanshist" are shown as Rs. 514 and Rs. 1,325 respectively. The amount is included in the old collections and from the Amildar's report I gather that the kan assessment is not under a separate head but a small sum appears as "Kanshist" in each wargdar's patta. The "Hasarvani" assessment is levied at rates from Rs 0—4—8 to Rs. 3 per head on each cultivator, who thereby becomes entitled to grow plantains, cardamoms, &c, in his "Hittalu." The effect of the settlement on the "Hasarvani" gardens cannot well be predicted, nor yet upon the kans. The hasarvani gardens sometimes contain coffee and sometimes mixed produce consisting of plantains, cardamoms and vegetables. Some of these small gardens will be assessed, after enquiry at the settlement, according to their circumstances, others will be left unassessed till the coffee question is disposed of. As regards the kanshist I do not think from my experience of the Koppa Taluk, that it will be possible to identify and assess them, as was done in taluks, like Sorab, where kans were systematically cultivated. In the Koppa Taluk all efforts to identify kans have been futile, I do not wish therefore to attempt any estimate under the present settlement of revenue from either kans or hasarvani gardens; it will no doubt amount to something appreciable, but I am unable to make any reliable forecast on the subject.

Grazing.

37. There are no proceeds from grazing in these villages, worthy of mention.

Probable result of allocation of minor inams.

38. The operation of allocating inams will not bring in any large amount, at the utmost about Rs. 500.

Local cess.

39. The one anna local cess in 1879—80 brought in a sum of Rs. 3,385; under the proposed settlement the amount will be Rs. 4,898 on Government land and Rs. 122 on minor inams, in all Rs. 5,020.

General comparison of old and new assessment.

40. The realizations of 1879—80 will therefore compare as follows with the expected results of the proposed settlement.

	Rs.
Land Revenue for 1879—80	51,669
One anna local cess	3,385
Total under old system....	55,054
Survey assessment of occupied lands	78,377
One anna local cess on Government occupied and minor inam lands.	5,020
Total under the new or Survey system....	83,397

41. Excluding any calculation of local cesses, there is thus a gain of Rs. 26,708, as a result of the settlement. Under ordinary circumstances such an increase might perhaps not appear advisable, but there seem to me to be unanswerable reasons why the lump assessment should not be lower than I have pitched it. These reasons I will give as briefly as possible. In the first place, there is every reason to suppose, as already noticed in paras 22 and 23, that the wargdars have pointed out, as occupied, every acre they possibly could and in a country like that under report where what is called the "Warg' system prevails, it is impossible to prevent this, there being no adverse possession, so to speak, on the part of Government, to check encroachment. I have very little doubt that the object of the wargdars has been to so arrange matters that at the pending settlement they shall be found in possession of all the lands to which they attach any value, of which they would then take their pick It was not found practicable, or rather the time and expense would have been too great, to obtain an accurate return of the land lying waste at time of classification, nor would such a return have helped us to tell at all more accurately what extent of land the wargdars were likely to throw up at the settlement, for it by no means follows that a wargdar does not keep his waste lands after the settlement. I am more inclined to trust to the proportion of the population to the area said to be under occupancy, than to anything else, to give a clue to probable resignations. There are, according to the classification returns, 21,872 people to 28,683 acres of Government land said to be occupied. In no taluk, however wild and inaccessible, have I found that the wargdars failed to retain in their holdings less than an acre, and a little over, to each head of the population. In Kavaledurga a population of 38,429 cultivated last year 51,884 acres, in Nagar the figures are 25,055 and 45,858 respectively; in short in malnad taluks from 1¼ to 1½ acres is about the proportion of land occupied to each head of the population. I think that in the villages under report we must be prepared for the possible resignation of land bearing assessment of Rs. 8,000 or 9,000. It does not necessarily follow that so much land will be resigned, but no one can feel certain that it may not be the case. Of one thing we may be sure viz., that resignations will be very little regulated by the amount of the assessment, and that no waiving of the demands of Government will be productive of any good so long as those demands are just and reasonable.

42. Combining with the above circumstances to form an argument against fixing the lump assessment any lower than I have done, are the actual rates themselves and to this point I would invite particular attention. In para 27 I promised to explain the reasons, for fixing a lower scale of rates than in adjoining settled villages, for the villages of my first group which, it may be remembered, was composed chiefly of the Múdgere and Bidarnad Maganis. In the already settled villages of the Gombid Magani, formerly of the Belur Taluk, adjoining the Múdgere Magani, the maximum rates were, garden Rs 16, rice Rs. 7—8—0 and dry crop Re. 1—0—0. In the first group of the villages now under report those figures become Rs 16, Rs. 6 and Re. 1 respectively. In the part of the Chikmagalur Taluk adjoining the Bidarnad Magani in my first group the rates were very nearly the same as those now proposed. It will be seen from the grouping given in para 25 how liberally the maximum rates descend to meet the varying circumstances of each group. I am always averse from any excessive increase of assessment where it can possibly be avoided, but in the present instance I think the adoption of lower rates would be a positive mistake, leading not only to needless sacrifice of revenue, but at the same time doing the people little or no good. Indeed in adopting a maximum rate of Rs. 6 for the villages of the Múdgere Magani my difficulty has been to find reasons sufficiently strong to justify so low a maximum, the adjoining villages of Gombid having a Rs. 7—8—0 maximum, but considering the great increase which a 6 rupee maximum gives, and how rapidly the character of the country changes as we proceed west-ward I think it inadvisable to propose any higher maximum rate.

43. The pay of village officers, to be placed on a proper footing, will require a sum of about Rs. 5,000.

Pay of village officers.

44. Towards the Irrigation Fund a sum of Rs. 1,126 will have to be set aside, 3 pies in the rupee of ordinary assessment being the basis of calculation, as proposed by me and concurred in by the Deputy Commissioner in his letter No. 633 of the 16th August 1880.

Irrigation cess.

45. Taking the cost of the two measures, noted in the two preceding paras, the net increase by the settlement will be about Rs. 20,000 in round numbers. Allowing even for probable resignations the settlement will be an advantageous one for Government, but the results are only what might fairly be looked for, considering the evasion of the assessment which has undoubtedly taken place, in the absence of any record of area, or proper system of revenue management.

Net gain to Government.

46. In para 24 I observed that I hoped, before closing this report, to give some illustrations of the inequality of the old assessment, but I find that the lands of villages are so intermixed that any deductions, with the village as the unit, would only tend to mislead. I therefore give the necessary illustration, magani by magani, as below.

Illustration of the inequality of the old assessment.

47. The greatest increase by the settlement is in the Melbangadi Magani in which the old average rate for rice land is only Rs. 1—3—10. In this same magani only 12 acres of rice land were pointed out as unoccupied and the presumption is very strong that the area actually cultivated is much less than that pointed out as occupied. But in all the villages under report the same suspicion applies more or less and we may fairly compare the rates in columns 5, 6, and 7 in order to ascertain the pressure of the old assessment. These it will be observed show very wide and unjustifiable extremes There is no justifiable reason whatever for the assessment in the Melbangadi Magani being so much lower than that of the Kalasa Magani. The most moderate increase by the settlement occurs in the case of the Bidarnad Magani in which I have already remarked there had been formerly some attempt to make a settlement ryotwar. Had the village lands not been so much intermixed, I could have given very much more striking instances of unequal assessment under the old system. Of the survey rates shown in columns 8, 9 and 10 of the above statement I can only state that they are intrinsically low and that the resulting assessment has been spread over the tract under report with as much care as possible, as shown in para 25.

Appendices.

48. The usual classwar statement A appended is given Maganiwar for reasons already set forth. The other appendices are (1) a report on the villages concerned by Mr. Butcher, the officer in charge of classing operations, (2) a report No. 642 of the 16th August 1880 by the Deputy Commissioner of the District on points connected with the settlement. There are no inam villages in the tract under report. A map on the scale of 4 miles to the inch is attached showing the proposed grouping of villages.

Conclusion.

49. I hope to be able to commence giving out the rates about the 1st of April next and shall feel much obliged by as early sanction as possible.

I have the honor to be

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

No. 642.

KADUR DISTRICT DEPUTY COMMR.'S OFFICE,
Chikmagalur, 16th August 1880.

To

The Superintendent.

Revenue Survey.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 570, dated 29th ultimo, calling for information regarding the past revenue management and rates of land assessment of that part of the Mûdgere Taluk which is to be settled.

2. This part, which is all Malnad, contains 9 Maganis, being portions contributed to the Taluk by the Manjarabad and former Vastara Taluks. The Maganis are :—

1. Urbage.	4. Kalur.	7. Melbangadi.
2. Kesavalalu.	5. Tripura.	8. Kalasa.
3. Mûdgere.	6. Banakal.	9. Bidarnad.

They constitute one of the most important rice-growing parts of the Province. Kalasa, which is the northernmost Magani, is the home of the "Supari," known par excellence as "Desavara," in distinction from that grown in other Malnad parts which is called "Honnavara," and from "Volagra," under which name is classed the production of other inland gardens. There are some gardens of supari in Melbangadi and a few in Banakal, Kalur and Kesavalalu. In the supari gardens, wherever convenient, cardamom and pepper also are grown. Besides these, in the gardens of Kalsa betel-leaves also are produced to an appreciable extent. But there is very little dry cultivation in the proper sense, except in Bidarnad which adjoins Vastara. Only there are a few hasarvani hittals which, though classed in the accounts as "Dry," are plantations of plantain, pine-apple, jack, citron, orange, lime and mango, in which also coffee and vegetables frequently occur with cardamom and pepper. Nor is there any second-crop-rice, or sugar-cane cultivation, except to a small extent in Kalasa and Melbangadi.

3. It is evident that the Maganis alluded to should, of course, come in for their share of the general revenue history of the Nagar and Manjarabad country. They have accordingly been more or less subject, first, to the Virada or Varabashist of the Vijayanagar kingdom; then to the Rekhashist of Sivappa Nayik; then to the additional imposts of other Ikkeri rulers, Pallegars, and Hyder Alikhan, called "Dasoha," "Pagadi" and "Patti," or more generally "Patti"; then to the Paimayish of Púrnaiya and the increased assessment imposed by him under the name of "Shist Jashti" and "Kanike," and by the process of commuting the money-assessment of some of the best lands for a grain contribution for the use of the Maha Raja's Modikhana; then to the impositions of the over-zealous Amildars, mostly of this Minister's time, who in villages rented in block to the Patels or other principal inhabitants, having found that these collected more than the Shist and Patti from the cultivators carried the difference between this actual collection and the original Shist and Patti to account under the name of "Beriz Jashti;" then to the arbitrary exactions of the Amildars during the late Maha Raja's time, to which the "Shisti system" of settlement, then in vogue, necessarily gave rise; and then to the enhancement caused after the assumption of the country by the British Government by the Amildars to whom the duty of converting Púrnaiya's grain-contribution into "Svarna Adayam" or money-rent again was entrusted, and who settled the new money rates with reference to the "Chadsal Jama" or the highest share that had ever been realized, or with the aid of the more insidious "Dhan Gutta" system which, professing nominally to levy only the grain-rent as a means of allaying the clamours of more suspicious ryots, levied a money-rent in reality by compelling them to take the grain at an arbitrarily fixed price. Again, as in other Malnad parts, there has been also the plan of compelling the ryots to keep in their holding every field they may at different times have taken either of their own accord or in consequence of pressure used to induce them to take up the holdings of their deceased relatives or neighbours, and to pay for these fields whether they were cultivated or waste. On the other hand, generally as a compromise necessarily due from the above extremely rigorous method of management to the actual exigencies of the revenue, it has been customary to grant the concessions of the "Shraya" or "Alavé" system, or reductions in whole or in part, under the name of "Tavaguf" or "Baki," of the "Beriz Jashti" or "Patti," and even of the "Shist," on the ground of the general excessiveness of the combined assessment, or of "Saguvali Nashta," "Kula Nashta" and Nisthala, which suppose so much waste rice-land or supari garden, or of Alatekamme and Harimara, which imply an actual deficiency either in the recorded extent of land or in the number of trees that should ordinarily be standing thereon in the "Supari" gardens.

4. Primâ facie, the above pedigree of the existing assessment should leave very little hope of the present collection being susceptible of an increase. Every possible pie should seem to have been wrung.

5. I understand that there has not been substantively much difference in the cultivation since the past ten, if not also more years, if the slight increase is kept out of sight which is due only to the bringing into book of the inams formerly deducted from the warg-lands but since resumed, as the Inam Department has substituted for them ready-money inams. The accounts of the last year, 1879—80, give the following figures :—

6. The above information is what is contained in the existing Revenue accounts. But to say that it affords any reliable data for the purpose in view, is only to claim respect to the notoriously incorrect "Bijavari" Chittas of the Shanbhogs and the inextricable confusion into which, in reducing the khandis of these Chittas into Krishnaraj khandis, the Revenue accounts have been led by the hundred and one different dimensions of the local khandis to which the bijavari of the Shanbhogs appears evidently to refer. And the Amildar, indeed, informs me that the actual extent of cultivation may on the whole be cent per cent more than the professed extent. Subjoined is a detailed statement of rates now supposed to regulate the assessment :—

7. Broadly, with reference to the circumstances of the country, it seems to be the popular opinion that lands in the bed of the valleys, which are on that account called "Taggu," are superior to the "Janki Lands" or lands higher up on the sides, and that the second crop-rice, and sugar-cane lands are fit to pay more than other lands. And it may be added, with reference to the surrounding settled parts of other Taluks, that Bidarnad Magani is considered to be similar to Vastara and Kalasa, and Melbangadi, to Megunde and other adjoining parts of the Koppa Taluk and that the other Maganis may rank between Bidarnad and Kalasa and Melbangadi, in regard to the rates.

No. 1262.

KADUR DISTRICT DEPUTY COMMR.'S OFFICE,

Chikmagalur, 8th February 1881.

To

The Superintendent,

Mysore Revenue Survey.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. 56, dated 26th January 1881, forwarding for perusal and such remarks as may seem necessary, your proposals for the revision of the assessment of 116 Government villages in the Múdgere Taluk of this District, I have the honor to submit the following report.

1. The opening paras of the report descriptive of the country, &c., do not call for any remark; but in para 12 attention is drawn to the strange discrepancy which appears between the Census figures of 1871 and those of the Classers' numbering, the former showing a population of 34,252, and the latter of only 21,872. I think that this discrepancy can be, to a great extent, explained by the fact that while the census of 1871 included all of what may be called the floating population, the Lambanis, the coolies from the Mysore plains, the South Canara coolies and others employed during the dry season in the areca gardens, coffee estates, and on road work, the Classers probably only counted actual residents.

2. Para 14 describing the condition of the people as one of prosperity, says that coffee has done a good deal for the country in providing labor for those who want work, &c. Coffee has undoubtedly done a great deal for the taluk, and for the day labor class, but for the land holding, i. e., the kandayam-paying class, it has been anything but an unmixed benefit. The out-turn of the coffee hittalus of late years, reduced as it has been by borer, leaf disease and want of cultivation, scarcely compensates them for the desertion of their slaves and the general rise in the price of labor, which the demand for coolies on European coffee estates has caused.

3. In my recent tour through the Malnad of this District, the bitter complaints of the garden holders has not been even in Koppa, so much of the rise in their kandayam as of the scarcity of labor. The "Jitálús" mentioned in para 20 of Mr. Butcher's report are finding out even in the most remote villages that Rs. 2 and a Rumal a year, and two meals a day, are not equivalent to the 5 or 7 Rs. a month, they can earn on the estates, and also that their masters can no longer compel them, even though they may have paid their marriage expenses and those of their forefathers before them to stay. Again, for some reason which I have not yet found a satisfactory explanation for, the supply of skilled labor which used to come from below the Ghats and from Nagar, (laborers who could climb the thinnest and tallest supari tree literally like monkeys) has fallen off tremendously, and the cost of covering the nut bunches and of gathering them has consequently increased tenfold.

4. From para 23 it would appear that the real extent of cultivation is as nearly as possible three times what is supposed to be, the 9,274 acres being really 28,683 acres. Thus more than confirming the Amildar's opinion that the actual extent of cultivation may on the whole be cent per cent more than the professed extent (vide para 6 of the late Deputy Commissioner's report).

Thus garden which was supposed to be paying from Rs. 10 up to Rs. 22—14—0 an acre has actually been paying Rs. 3—14—0 only and rice which was supposed to have been paying anything up to Rs. 17—9—8 really has only been paying Rs. 1—15—0 an acre. It is now proposed to make garden pay on an average Rs. 8—4—0 and rice Rs. 2—12—0 an acre. The results of which rates, including also an increase of Rs. 1,784 in the dry crops, will be to raise the amount leviable from the taluk from Rs. 51,619 to Rs. 78,377, an increase of Rs. 26,678, to which must be also added an increase of Rs. 1,635 on the local cess.

5. An increase of nearly 51·5 per cent in the rental of any portion of a district at one bound is serious and however just and equitable the grounds for the rise may be, it is certain to cause an undesirable sense of injury and discontent, and if I could put forward substantial objections against the reasons given for the large increase, I would gladly do so. But I find on careful reference to the accounts of the maganis of the different settled taluks, which border on the villages referred to in the present proposals, that similar rates have been accepted quietly and have not resulted in any excessive throwing up of lands or even generally prevented new lands being applied for, a good criterion of the fairness of the settlement.

6. I find for instance that the 1st group of villages, where the proposed maximum is Rs. 6 an acre, is bounded on the three sides by settled villages of the Vastara and Anur maganis of the Chikmagalur Taluk, and by the settled magani of Gonibid recently transferred to Múdgere from Belur. The maximum rates in the first two are Rs 7—4—0 an acre for rice and Rs. 7—8—0 for the third, or one rupee and a quarter, and one rupee and a half higher than the maximum rates now proposed for the neighbouring villages in Mudgere. The results of this year's jamabandi in the first two maganis (the total jamabandi of these two maganis was Rs. 17,473; it now is Rs 19,755) do not tend to show that the rates levied have been felt to be oppressive, as in the Vastara Magani this year, lands paying Rs. 571—4—0 have been darkhasted for, and only Rs. 65—12—0 resigned, while in the Anur Magani, lands paying Rs. 145—12—0 have been taken up against Rs 62 resigned. In Gonibid, however, there have been heavy resignations, land paying Rs 460 being resigned against only Rs 58—11—0 darkhasted for.

7. The 2nd and 3rd groups are also bounded all along their north-eastern border by the Kadgalnad, Taldernad and Kandya Maganis of Chikmagalur.

8 The maximum rates proposed for these two groups for rice are Rs 5 and 4 respectively, against a maximum rate of Rs. 5—4—0 in the bordering settled maganis of Chikmagalur.

9. The results of this year's jamabandi do not show that the heavier of these two rates have, in any way, been felt to be too severe. The resignations since the settlement have been only Rs 180—7—6 against Rs. 660—0—0 taken up, though the total jamabandi of these sammats is now Rs 18,263 against Rs. 17,402 before the settlement.

10. We now come to the 4th group along the boundaries of which and of a portion of the 3rd group, the frontier of the Koppa Taluk marches for about 20 miles. The supari gardens here supersede the rice cultivation in importance.

11 The maganis of Marvalli, garden maximum rate Rs. 18, Megund Rs. 18, Nemar Rs. 16 and Kerra Rs. 14 are the bordering Maganis.

12. The proposed maximum rate for the 4th group in garden is Rs. 16 or two rupees lower than that in Marvalli and Megund, the same as that of Nemar and two rupees higher than in Kerra The jamabandi of this year in these maganis gives the following results. In Marvalli gardens assessed at Rs. 664 were resigned against Rs. 145 taken up. In Megund gardens paying an assessment of Rs. 57 were resigned against Rs. 10 taken up. In Nemar no lands were resigned or taken up during the year. In Kerra lands assessed at Rs. 84 were resigned and Rs. 29 taken up.

13. The heavy resignation in Marvalli attracted my attention and finding that the gardens resigned were a group in the Gudetota village assessed at Rs. 477, which is bounded on the south by the Betadkolalu village of Múdgere, I climbed over to them and made careful enquiries on the spot as to the causes of the resignation. It turned out to have little to do with the kandayam. The owner of the gardens had died, and his son, a young lad of 10, had not the means to keep up the garden. His uncle though, who lived near the garden, had been allowed to buy in its produce, which on the gardens lapsing to Government, was sold by auction at the rediculously low figure of Rs. 25. In a retired valley like this, there is little to prevent gardens being to a certain extent cultivated, whether resigned or not, and if the original holders are allowed to buy in the produce annually for about a sixteenth of the kandayam, resignations will certainly multiply. On my threatening to cut down the trees and sell them for firewood, the man said he would take up the larger portion of the gardens if they are divided into smaller fields.

14. Cases of this sort do an immense deal of harm as they encourage people to throw up in hopes of enjoying the garden all the same, with the connivance of the petty village officials. Measures however will be taken to stop this.

15. Much the same as it is now proposed to increase the Kalasa garden holders, the holders in Koppa were increased two years ago. The ryots naturally cry out and feel injured by the rise in their rents, but the collections of halat on areca do not bear out their statement that this valuable cultivation is rapidly declining. On the contrary the last two years' collections show a fair increase. They are as follows for Koppa and Múdgere :—

Múdgere.		Koppa.
1875—76	No Taluk of Múdgere	63,999
1876—77	for these two years.	61,305
1877—78	5,886	61,445
1878—79	6,369	72,113
1879—80	4,768, but to this has to be added Rs. 1,927 for stock in hand. Total Rs. 6,695.	75,363

16. Still the impression prevails both with old European planters residing in this part of the country and the Natives that this cultivation is going backwards and requires to be carefully nursed. I consequently made enquiries into the reasons of all heavy cases of resignations that came to my notice, and am of opinion that though the kandayam compared with what it used to be is sometimes startlingly high, it is not at all oppressively so taken relatively to what the produce of the gardens if properly cultivated brings in. The gardens had fallen waste from the following causes.

1st. The dying out of the cultivating family—Several cases of this came to my notice and when this happens especially in the more remote valleys it appears to be almost impossible to get others to take the gardens up. They are looked upon as unlucky and shunned as haunted by devils.

2nd. From the indebtedness of the Brahman owners as a class to the Sutigedars, nearly every garden is heavily mortgaged, and what Government takes is but a trifle to what the sahukar under one pretext or other squeezes out of the holders who, left without the capital now necessary to procure labor get more and more involved and consequently more and more bullied till they finally bolt in the night or go on a pilgrimage and do not return. The sahukar then finds his rapacity has over-reached itself, and that the garden ruined by want of cultivation is scarcely worth keeping and finally throws it up.

17. What is the case in Koppa is probably the case also in the Kalasa Magani, group No. 4, and it is a matter for consideration whether though the rates are fair and just, it is wise under the circumstances to raise the rent of this class of cultivation from Rs. 5,917 to Rs. 12,579.

18. Areca-nut and cardamoms both pay halat as well as land tax, and local fund cess of one anna is levied on both the tax and halat. They are therefore doubly taxed.

19. I regret that this report should be so crude and imperfect, but I have been too short a time in the District to allow of my making myself thoroughly acquainted with the wants of the taluk and its inhabitants, and as you have requested an early reply to your letter, I have been unable to camp in the taluk and to go into matters with the thoroughness desirable.

20. The enclosures of your letter under reply are herewith returned.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward the whole of the papers as per margin on the proposed revision of the assessment of 116 Government villages of the Múdgere Taluk

1. Survey Superintendent's report No. 55, dated 26th January 1881, with its accompaniments.
2. Survey Supt.'s letter No. 56 of the 26th idem, to the Deputy Commr., Kadur District.
3. Kadur District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1262 of the 8th February 1881.

2. Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1262 of the 8th instant, with which the correspondence closes, calls for a few remarks on my part.

3. The difference, as regards population, between the Census figures of 1871 and the Classing returns, is assigned by the Deputy Commissioner, and I believe correctly so, to the floating population not being taken into account in the Classing returns. I would add that although there was no actual want of food in Múdgere during the famine, sickness was more rife than in normal years, and moreover the effect of the famine was to disturb population even in the most flourishing tracts, by creating abnormal demands on labor and enterprize in other parts. What may be called the moving population in the villages under report could scarcely amount to 12,000. Whatever the real cause of the difference there are no signs, in diminished revenue, of the cultivating power having been injuriously affected.

4. Although, at first sight, the opinions of the Deputy Commissioner and my own may appear somewhat at variance, regarding the policy of the proposed settlement, such is not in reality the case. I look rather upon Mr. Meiklejohn's ready exposition of the worst features of the case as comprised in the desertion of their masters by the "Jitálu," or house slaves, and the ever ready complaints of the garden owners of want of skilled labor, as the natural impulse of a Revenue Officer brought face to face with proposals involving such seemingly heavy additions to the assessment. I quite agree with the Deputy Commissioner in his remarks regarding the necessity of carefully watching the supari cultivation and I would add protecting it when its interests clash with those of coffee cultivation, but while he weighs carefully all the arguments pointing to moderation he does not allow quite full weight to the arguments in support of the other view of the question.

5. In para 5 the key-note of the Deputy Commissioner's very natural view of the effect of the proposed settlement is struck. He feels, as I felt myself when I framed my proposals, that he would be glad to see a less sudden increase to the assessment, but that it will not answer to consult expediency in preference to strict impartiality and valuable experience acquired in former settlements. The working of the rates in the adjoining portions of the Koppa, Chikmagalur and Belur Taluks, so carefully described by Mr. Meiklejohn in paras 6 to 14, as well as the rise in the collections of "Halat" in the last two years, reflect favorably on the settlement of those Taluks, and, as the rates now proposed (see para 42 of Report) are much lower, I view the effect of the settlement with no apprehension whatever. Beyond doubt there will be discontent and sense of injury, whether genuine or not, expressed at the settlement, but unfortunately it is out of our power to make matters pleasant to all parties concerned, including the Government.

6. The Deputy Commissioner does not allude to the very strong points made in the report regarding the fact of nearly the whole of the arable lands having been pointed out as occupied and the consequent probability of a good deal of land being resigned at the settlement.

7. It would lengthen out this correspondence too much to follow Mr. Meiklejohn in all his remarks. I will merely sum up, once more, briefly, what we may expect to be the result of the settlement. The assessment of the occupied land is raised by the settlement from Rs. 51,696 to Rs 78,377, an increase of about 51 per cent. From this gross increase of Rs. 26,708 must be deducted Rs. 5,000 for pay of village officers and as these represent the very class of Wargdars most raised by the settlement, the money may fairly be said to go back to the land holders. A small sum of Rs. 1,126, merged Irrigation cess, will it is hoped be spent on useful works. There would then be left about Rs. 20,000 net increase, an amount very liable to be reduced by resignations of land, as there is the strongest reason to suppose the Wargdars have not fairly pointed out their holdings.

No 98. SURVEY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

Dated Bangalore, 7th February 1881.

From

Colonel W. C. Anderson., Survey Commissioner, Mysore.

To

The Revenue Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Mysore.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward the appended letter from the Superintendent, Revenue Survey, No. 46 of the 22nd January 1881, and previous correspondence relating to the proposed survey settlement of the Dodballapur Taluk of the Bangalore District.

2. I will not follow the letter of the Deputy Superintendent through all its details, but merely touch on the more salient points for consideration

3. The Taluk is well situated being in the immediate vicinity of Bangalore with every reasonable facility as regards communication with markets. It has a good rain-fall and even after the heavy reduction due to the famine a fair average population 140 to the square mile on the whole area and 200 to the square mile on the cultivated area, which is by no means a small average for a country in which dry crop cultivation so largely predominates. The number of cattle 64,084 is very large considering how recently the famine must have much reduced their numbers, probably however the chief losses in the famine were mostly of the more worthless cattle. The carts large and small together amount to 1,158, a very large number for so small a Taluk and affords conclusive proof that there is a very considerable trade carried on The present condition of the agricultural population is generally considered to be good.

4 In para 12 of the Deputy Superintendent's letter the rates of assessment hitherto prevalent are stated, as these are obtained by a conversion of the old khandis into acres ; they cannot be considered at best as deserving of any very great trust.

5. In para 18 the Deputy Superintendent refers to the attempt to abolish the batayi system about 15 years ago and substitute a cash assessment ; it is evident that the result of this attempt was injurious to the people and to Government from great defects in the details of carrying it out and in this view the Deputy Commissioner in charge of the District coincides.

6. At para 19 is a statement showing the revenue history of this Taluk for the past twenty-five years. The bijvari measures of annual occupied land have of course as usual no connection with area and can only serve to indicate approximately the increase and decrease of the area actually occupied. The actual "Collections" in this statement is the only part really trustworthy ; these show very great fluctuations and advance and retrogression of the revenue. The collections about 1864 to 1870 were it may be presumed much affected by the attempt about their being made to change the batayi into a cash assessment. About the earlier years of that period very high prices prevailed ; the area of cultivation was consequently much extended for a time. Both these causes, the attempt to change the base of the revenue system, and a great change and extension in the area of cultivated land combined to induce very great fluctuations in the annual revenue realized. The very low collections of 1866-67 are due to that year having been an excessively bad one throughout the east of Mysore, in recent times in fact as a year of drought second only to 1876-77. In 1871-72 it may be considered that the Taluk had settled down and the period from and including that year up to the end of 1875-76, five years in all, must be looked on as showing about what annual revenue was likely to be given under the revenue system in force. The average collections of these five years are Rs. 88,821. All the years after 1875-76 must be looked upon as abnormal, all being affected by the famine and its consequences.

7. Para 20 shows the range of prices during the last twenty-five years. A great rise occurred shortly after the American war or from 1864 to 1868 followed by a fall up to the time of the famine of 1876-77 ; since that year prices have been exceedingly high and must be looked on as quite exceptional and due to the depletion of stocks consequent on the famine. In the present year which does not appear in the statement a great fall has occurred.

8. The great rise of prices consequent on the famine in and since 1877-78, during which period the seasons have been I imagine fully up to the average, has been very greatly to the advantage of the better class of cultivators who withstood the effects of the famine, and must have greatly aided them in recouping the losses of the famine period. These same high prices must have however here borne hardly on the class who live on wages, though less so on the class of agricultural laborers who are very commonly paid in kind irrespective of prices. The fall in prices of the present year consequent on a good season will be a great boon to all the class living on cash wages, and will do much to hasten the restoration of general prosperity.

9. The Deputy Superintendent in the close of para 20 of his letter remarks on the apparent want of connection between prices and high collections in that the year of highest prices was 1866-67, while the collections were highest in the preceding and the following years. But it must be evident that the collections of a year will be affected by the prices of the preceding year and not by those of the very year in which they occur, as the cultivated area of the year is determined at an early period of the year and long before the prices subsequently ruling in the year can be known. The years 1865—66 and 1867—68 were years of a great extension of cultivation, in 1864—65 a great rise of prices occurred and was followed by a considerable increase in the cultivated area returned and in the actual collections, and the farther rise of prices which is recorded opposite 1866—67 was the occasion of a still farther increase in the cultivation and collections which decreased annually as prices again fell. In 1866—67 though prices were very high, the collections were abnormally low for that period, the cause of which clearly is that the season was a most exceptionally bad one and though nothing is entered under the head of remissions, as is indeed the case annually in the return up to 1872—73, a considerable amount of the revenue which in a better season would have been collected was not collected. The cause of the absence of remissions from the return up to 1872 I believe to have been that it was the custom to enter the amount collected only as the full original demand taking no notice or account of the amount remitted or decided as not for collection at the jamabandi.

10. The grouping of villages for different rates of assessment and the rates proposed for each group are explained in paras 22 and 23 of the Deputy Superintendent's letter and the estimated revenue result is shown in the 24th para as regards the land recorded as occupied at the time of the classification last year.

11. It appears that on the area recorded as occupied an assessment of Rs. 99,039 is estimated as realizable, on which land Rs. 77,361 was collected last year. But we have to make several deductions from the total sum of Rs. 99,039 survey assessment First, we must deduct about Rs. 6,500 probably required for the pay of the village officers, and about Rs 2,000 which will be credited to the District Irrigation Fund; this leaves a net State revenue estimated to result from the survey of Rs 90,500 in round numbers on the land supposed to be in occupation last year. But we must always bear in mind that some land is recorded as occupied which in real fact was not so before the survey, during the progress of which the ryots point out patches and pieces of waste land adjacent to their cultivated lands as belonging to them, in order to secure the inclusion of them in their own lands and consolidate their holdings; at the time of survey present payments are in no way affected by this. But when the settlement is introduced payment will for the first time be required on the whole area occupied and possibly some outlying whole survey numbers or fields may be given up. Thus the survey revenue on the occupied area is calculated on a small extent more land than was covered by the payments last year under the old system. How much more land it is impossible to say, but it may amount certainly to land bearing assessment up to 2 or 3 per cent of the whole, and so in comparing the State revenue as above shown of Rs. 90,500 with the revenue realized last year, Rs. 77,361, it would be just to deduct about Rs. 2,500 from the former which would leave the State revenue by the survey on the area really occupied last year at Rs. 88,000 against Rs. 77,361 collected last year under the old system, or a little less than was collected in the previous year Rs. 90,457.

12. But it is difficult to make any just comparison with recent years since the famine, since various causes have tended to render their collections abnormal. The average of the preceding five years those commencing with 1871—72 will afford a better base of comparison; the average realization for those five years was Rs. 88,821 which the present estimated survey result nearly equals. So far financially there is not much advantage derived from the survey, but in the future and as the recovery of the Taluk from the famine becomes complete, there is a large field for the expansion of the revenue in the extensive area of Government assessed arable waste land. The area of waste garden is indeed insignificant, but the assessment of the waste rice land amounts to Rs. 23,153 and that of the waste dry crop land to Rs. 50,617. We cannot expect to see any material proportion of the dry crop land taken up, but of the rice land I should expect that a very few years if all goes well would see at least half brought into occupation.

13. Therefore I consider the financial promise of this settlement to be good. In the immediate present we hope to secure a better revenue than the average of the past three years has given, Rs. 82,375, though a fraction less than the best of those three years, and in the not very distant future we may hope to see an expansion up to at least a lakh.

14. The Rs. 6,500 deducted from the revenue estimated for, as required for the payment of the village officers, is not reckoned as any burden on the Taluk; the collection of this sum in fact represents a considerable reduction of burden, as it is in compensation for the abolition of the collection of direct grain levies by the village officers from the ryots which in one way or another probably cost them very much more than the sum now set aside as compensation.

15. The following is then the synoptical statement of the past realizations and those immediately estimated for from the survey settlement:—

	Rs.
Average collections for five years antecedent to the famine ..	.. 88,821
Average collections for last three years	.. 82,375
Collections last year	.. 77,328
Net State revenue on land really occupied last year ..	.. 88,000

16. Which last sum of Rs. 88,000 will be increased by about Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 3,000 if the people retain in occupation all the land which they have shown as occupied though really not so hitherto The Deputy Superintendent estimates the total increase at 29 per cent by a mistaken mode of calculation. On the average of the past three years it will not exceed about 8 per cent so far as net revenue is concerned.

17 As regards local cess the one anna cess last year produced Rs. 4,837; under the survey settlement it will produce Rs. 7,390 on Government land and Inam land together.

18. The Deputy Commissioner in charge of the District makes no objection to the proposed settlement and doubts if much land will be thrown up at the settlement. Taking every thing into consideration this settlement appears to me to hold out every probability of a satisfactory result.

19. It only remains to request early consideration of these papers and that the Chief Commissioner's orders on them may be forwarded direct to the Superintendent, Revenue Survey.

SURVEY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Dated Bangalore, 22nd January 1881.

No. 46

From

The Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

To

The Survey and Settlement Commissioner of Mysore.

Sir,

I have the honor to forward correspondence as per margin on the subject of the proposed revision of the assessment of the Dodballapur Taluk of the Bangalore District.

1. Major Rutherfurd's Report No. 1058 of the 9th December 1880, and its accompaniments.
2. Survey Superintendent's letter No. 964 of the 15th idem to the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District.
3. Bangalore District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1384, dated 19th idem.

2. The report on the settlement now proposed has been drawn up by Major Rutherfurd, the Deputy Superintendent, in close consultation with myself, and it is not necessary that I should follow him in his remarks. The Deputy Commissioner's ample criticism and the very clear and accurate report, descriptive of the Taluk, by Mr. James leave little room for further remarks.

3. The Deputy Commissioner concurs in the proposals now submitted. Alternate forcing of the revenue, under the batayi system, and checking it under an erroneous system of wet rates, have exhausted as well as misdirected the resources of this Taluk. An improvement therefore in the circumstances of the ryots and I believe also in the Government revenue may be expected from the introduction of the new system of rates which are moderate and in accordance with those already sanctioned and working successfully in adjoining taluks.

4. Compared with the extraordinary high average of realizations of the last 20 years, Rs. 95,286, the assessment of the occupied lands now proposed, viz., Rs. 99,039, may appear to give very little increase of revenue, but it must be borne in mind that although imperfect data render it impossible to trace the fluctuation of the cultivated area year by year, but only of the actual collections, the presumption is too strong to be resisted that the present recorded area under occupancy is very much less than that on which the high average in question was realized in past years.

5. As regards the probability of land being resigned at the settlement, I cannot quite agree with the Deputy Commissioner in thinking the resignations will be very few. The ryots are quite intelligent enough to see the advantage of curtailing their holdings according to their means and just at present, although recuperation is going on rapidly, the working hands and plough cattle are much below the normal figure. No one however who has seen the Dodballapur Taluk lately can have failed to mark the favorable out-look of its present prospects. The crops have been above the average and all traces of the famine, apparent to the eye, have disappeared. The waste arable land is of the enormous extent of 45,550 acres bearing assessment under present proposals of Rs. 74,679. Of this there are nearly 4,500 acres of garden and rice land assessed at Rs. 24,062. Under these circumstances, I consider the rates now proposed to be fully high but at the same time calculated to permit the healthy spread of cultivation as the resources of the country improve.

6. I shall be prepared to give out the rates about the middle of February and shall feel greatly obliged by an early sanction as possible.

I have the honor to be
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,

J. P. GRANT,
Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

No. 1058. DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Bangalore, 9th December 1880.

From The Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

To

The Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

SIR,

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment of the Dodballapur Taluk of the Bangalore District, Nundydroog Division.

2. The taluk comprises the following Maganis or sub-divisions :—

Sub-divisions.

No.	Name of Magani.	Government Villages.	Inam Villages.	Forest Kavals.	Total.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1	Dodballapur	33	10	...	43	There are no Amrut Mahal Kavals in the Taluk.
2	Kakol	46	8	...	54
3	Kodihalli	18	1	...	19
4	Honnavar	29	3	...	32
5	Hulikunte	38	5	1	44
6	Tippur	32	7	1	40
7	Tubgere	48	13	...	61
8	Rajgatta	27	4	...	31
		271	51	2	324

The present proposals refer solely to 271 Government villages shewn in column 3, and in all calculations of area, &c., the inam villages are not included except where specially mentioned.

3. The taluk is bounded on the north by the settled taluks of Goribidnur and Koratagere of the Kolar and Túmkúr Districts respectively; on the east by Chikballapur and Devanhalli Taluks of the Kolar and Bangalore Districts respectively; on the west and south by the Nelamangala Taluk of the Bangalore District. The kasba town is 27 miles from Bangalore.

Boundaries.

4. The taluk generally is undulating; to the north and north-west is a hilly range through which a pass descends to the low country of Goribidnur. Here, as well as to the south and west, scrub jungle is met with: everywhere else the country is quite open. Two rivers, the North Pinakini and Arkavati, rise in the north-east of the taluk; the former, after a very short course, crosses the boundary; the latter, flowing south south-west, receives the drainage of the whole taluk and supplies several large tanks.

Physical characteristics.

5. The soils vary in different parts of the taluk; the best are met with in the southern maganis, the worst in the maganis to the north and north-east. They range from light red to dark brown, the latter being generally found in the low lying lands. The red soils have a large admixture of sand.

Soils.

6. The staple crop is ragi, of which grain a very fine kind is grown; avare, horse-gram tobacco, and oil-seeds are also cultivated.

Crops (dry.)

The wet crops are rice and sugar-cane; the extent of cultivation is, however, very limited, notwithstanding the ample supply of water. The reasons for this neglect of what ought to be very profitable crops will be explained farther on.

Crops (wet.)

7. Areca-nut gardens are very few in number; they suffered severely during the famine. "Chillar bagayat" or vegetable gardens are, however, numerous, and very flourishing. Amongst other crops raised in them are potatoes, turmeric, kotambri, menthya and ground-nuts, for all of which there is always a ready sale.

Gardens.

8. The undulating nature of the taluk with its shallow valleys offers numerous sites admirably adapted for the building of tanks. There are altogether, large and small, 160 tanks, many of which are first class and all of which are in a thorough state of repair. "Talpargis" or surface springs are also numerous, and as the supply of water is perennial, they are utilized for raising rice, sugar-cane and vegetables.

Irrigation.

9. The taluk is well provided with roads. Near the kasba town roads branch off, south to Bangalore, north to Goribidnur, north-east to Chikballapur, north-west to Maddagiri and west to Sompur, a village on the Túmkúr-

Roads.

Bangalore road. Another road, which is much wanted, is now in progress between the kasba and Nelamangala.

Markets.

10. The local markets are unimportant. Bangalore, which is within easy reach of every part of the taluk, is resorted to in preference.

Manufactures, cattle, wages, subletting.

11. The marginally noted subjects are treated in paras 12, 16, 17 and 18 of Mr. James' report hereto appended and call for no farther notice.

Rates.

12. The rates on dry crop lands do not appear to be oppressive, but those on wet lands, fixed at the time of the conversion of batayi into nagadi, are high and unequal in their incidence. The rates given below have been reduced from khandis to acres.

Dry crop, from Rs.	0	3	7 to	6	11	8 per acre.
Wet Do do.	2	14	6 to	8	11	8 do.
Garden from do.	4	5	10 to 20	0	0	do.

Tenure.

13. The tenure is ryotvari.

Climate and rain-fall.

14. The climate is, on the whole, healthy. Fever prevails during the early part of the cold weather. The rain-fall is stated by the Amildar to be 23 inches. It is probably more.

Forests and kavals.

15. There are no State forests or Amrut Mahal Kavals in the taluk, but there is a small stretch of scrub jungle in the Tippur Magani and a plantation in the Hulikunte Magani under the management of the Forest Department.

Condition of the people.

16. The condition of the ryots generally, appears to be prosperous, notwithstanding the short time that has elapsed since the famine swept over this taluk.

Taluk statistics.

17. The following statement shews the statistics collected during the classification of the taluk.

Number of Villages.	Houses.	Population.	Square miles.	Cattle.	Carts.			Ploughs.	Markets.
					Small.	Large.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
271	6,587	30,750	219	64,084	904	254	11 58	6,268	5

The population shewn in column 3 and the square miles in column 4, are for Government villages only. Previous to the famine the population was ascertained by the Census of 1871 to be 63,707 and the number of houses 15,964. The deaths from famine and disease between the years 1876—78 were computed at 30,200, and besides these hundreds migrated to other places in search of food and employment, many of whom never returned. The famine also accounts for the enormous decrease in the number of houses. Numerous villages inhabited previous to the famine are now deserted and the houses in ruins. According to our returns the population is now 140 to the square mile on the whole area or 200 to the square mile on the culturable area only. Of the total area of 140,581 acres, 53,345 are cultivated; which give to each head of population a little over 1½ acres.

Past revenue management.

18. The batayi system was in full force about 15 years ago, and still obtains to a certain extent. In 1865-66 batayi was converted into kandayam tenure in the following manner. After ascertaining what the annual revenue from the "Atchkat" of a tank had been for the 10 previous years, an average was struck for the whole area, and one or more persons were induced to pay the whole amount of kandayam due. So long as prices ruled high, the plan succeeded, but when they fell, the contractors, as they may be called, found themselves unable to meet the Government demand, and therefore resigned. The "Atchkat" was in fact much the same as a warg in the Malnad: a man was bound to take the whole or none, and on the other hand could not exercise any choice in the selection or rejection of particular pieces of land. The result was the total collapse of the system. The rates at present in force are high and unequally distributed. This fact combined probably with the defects of the system above described, as well as the insufficient supply of manure, probably account for the limited area cultivated with rice and sugar-cane alluded to in para 6. There is nothing calling for special notice in the past revenue management of the taluk, with the exception of the unsuccessful attempt to convert batayi into nagadi just described. The inequality of the assessment was so great and the conditions imposed were so oppressive that the ryots would not voluntarily undertake the cultivation of wet lands.

19. The following statement, compiled from the taluk records, shews the collections for the last 25 years :—

Twenty-five years' average	...	...	...	...	93,662

The fluctuations in the collections are at first sight extraordinary, but the explanation will, I think, be found in the system of batayi cultivation in force in the taluk. The old bijvari area is, as usual, no guide to the increase or decrease in the collections. Here as in the rest of the Province, the highest collections were realized in 1865—66, viz, Rs. 1,32,872. From that year until 1878—79, with the exception of the 4 years between 1867—68 and 1870—71, the revenue steadily declined, till it reached, in 1877—78, Rs. 79,340 ; the lowest figure, with three exceptions, for the last 25 years. To shew the effect of the realizations from batayi on the collections I subjoin the following statement.

Year.	Batayi Realizations.	Total Collections.	Remarks.
1855—56	38,994	86,626	1865—66 and 1878—79 being exceptional years are not entered.
1856—57	25,862	73,944
1858—59	29,696	78,175
1859—60	54,901	1,14,252
1862—63	22,781	95,590
1863—64	33,519	1,08,099

The year 1878—79, in which the collections suddenly rose to Rs. 90,457, or Rs. 11,117 higher than those for the preceding famine year, was exceptional. In order to encourage the ryots to cultivate, seed was freely distributed, advances were made for the purchase of bullocks and agricultural implements, permission was granted to cultivate the beds of tanks, the "bunds" of which had been breached, and official pressure was also brought to bear, with the result that a large area was brought under cultivation. Remissions were granted in six out of the twenty-five years for which the collection statement has been prepared. With the exception of the famine years 1876—77 and 1878—79, when the large sums of Rs. 26,816 and Rs. 12,892 respectively were remitted, the amounts were small.

20. The following statement shews the prices that obtained during the same period as that for which the collections are given :— Prices.

1878—79	9	13	10	8 15 4	2 8 4
1879—80	13	29	20	6 9 4	1 13 11

The rise and fall in prices in this taluk shew nothing abnormally different from those in other parts of the Province. On comparing the statements of collections and prices, the effect of the latter on the former is not so apparent as one would expect to find. The highest prices, omitting the famine years 1876—78, ruled in 1866—67, when the collections were only Rs. 98,025 which amount was exceeded in the immediately preceding and following year in which prices were lower. Several other examples might be given.

21. The average collections for the last 20 years are returned at Rs. 95,286. Although considerable discouragement was offered to wet cultivation by the system of batayi, and the subsequent introduction of almost prohibitory rates, which were imposed according to a plan that on the one hand offered no inducements to the ryots to cultivate, and on the other deprived Government of potential revenue, still considering that no remissions were granted prior to 1872, and no difficulty was experienced in realizing the revenue, I think that the above mentioned sum is not more than the taluk can easily pay.

22. For purposes of settlement I propose to divide the taluk into three groups as shewn below :— Grouping.

Group.	Number of Villages.	Maximum Rates for—
		Dry crop.	Rice.	Tank Garden.	Well Garden.
1	2	3	4	5	6
I	130	2 12 0	9 0 0	16 0 0	10 0 0
II	65	2 8 0
III	76	2 4 0

The villages of group I are very favorably situated with regard to roads, and are within easy reach, either directly or indirectly, of Bangalore. The climate is, so far as rain-fall goes, also slightly superior to that of the rest of the taluk. Groups Nos. II and III are not so well provided with communications, especially the north-west portion of the latter, and are farther removed from markets.

23. The result of the above proposals will be to give the following assessment on the occupied lands under each head.

Result of proposals.

24. The following statement contrasts the new with the old assessment under the heads of dry and wet only, it being impossible to obtain from the old accounts sufficiently accurate data to distinguish between rice and garden. The item of Rs. 33 on account of remission is included in total of column 3.

Comparison between old and new assessments.

Description of Land.	Acres by Survey.	Old Assessment.	Average rate.	Survey Assessment.	Average rate.

25. The area of waste arable land is shewn below :—

It will be seen from the above statement that the area of waste garden is small. On the other hand, that of waste rice and dry crop is very large ; the former being only 96 acres, and the latter 6,625 acres, short of the occupied area. A great portion of the waste dry crop, especially that in the villages of the third group, is of inferior quality.

26. In the subjoined statement are shewn the area and assessment of inam lands included in the Government villages.

27. The next statement shews the result of the proposed rates on all the arable land of the Government villages under report, occupied, waste and inam, and contrasts the total of the old* collections with that of the proposed assessment :—

*Inclusive of Rs. 33 on account of remissions.

28. The proceeds from grazing in 1879—80 amounted to Rs. 2,639 and I have retained that sum as the estimated realizations under the proposed settlement. With proper management they will probably exceed the above amount.

Grazing.

29. The realizations on account of the one anna local cess amounted to Rs. 4,837 in 1879—80. After the introduction of the Survey settlement the one anna local cess on Government occupied lands and minor inams will give Rs. 6,190 and Rs. 1,200 respectively or a total of Rs. 7,390. The half anna local cess was raised to one anna in 1879.

Local Fund.

30. In the statement given below the estimated results of the proposed settlement are contrasted with the collections of 1879—80, the item of grazing being omitted :—

Proposed settlement and past collections contrasted.

	Rs.
Land Revenue 1879—80	77,361
One anna local cess	4,837
	82,198
Survey assessment on occupied lands	99,039
One anna local cess on above and on minor inams ..	7,390
	1,06,429

31. There will thus be a gross gain of Rs. 24,231 or 29 per cent. From this sum Rs. 2,002 will have to be credited to the District Irrigation Fund, and about Rs. 6,500 to pay of village officers. The net gain to Government as the result of the settlement will therefore be Rs. 15,729.

General Remarks.

32. It is probable that, at the settlement, a considerable extent of land will be reaigned, but of what value it is difficult to predict. I anticipate, however, that in the course of the next few years the ryots will begin to better appreciate the value of the rice lands which, with their moderate rates, ample supply of water and proximity to markets, offer every inducement to cultivation. The abolition of aya and mirasi with their attendant grievances will also relieve the ryots of a burden which has always pressed heavily upon them.

33. In order to illustrate the inequalities of the old assessment I have prepared the following statement shewing the increase and decrease in 8 villages effected by the imposition of the Survey rates. For the sake of convenience garden and rice have been combined under the head of wet :—

34. Statements A and B respectively shewing statistics with past collections and proposed Survey assessment, &c., and the inam villages in the taluk with nature of survey applied, are appended.

35. A sketch map of the taluk is attached.

36. The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, in his letter No. 591, dated 3rd August 1880, hereto appended, alludes to the system of batayi in force, and to the unsuccessful attempt to convert it into "Nagadiyat" and expresses a hope that the Survey Department will have no difficulty in fixing a fair rate per acre for the different classes of garden and wet lands.

No. 591—1.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,
BANGALORE DISTRICT,
Dated Bangalore, 3rd August 1860.

From

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District.

To

The Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

Sir,

In reply to your letter No. 545 of the 8th ultimo on the subject of the revision of assessment in the Dodballapur Taluk, I have the honor to forward copy of a memo received from the Amildar in which I concur generally.

2. When "Batayi" was converted into "Nagadayat" many years back, it was unfortunately done on the "Vat kandayam" principle, that is, an average was struck as to what the whole wet atchkat of a tank was to pay (without assessing individual fields) and then one person or set of persons undertook to pay the same. High prices were ruling at that time, and the average struck was more than the vat kandayamdar or kandayamdars could pay, and hence the whole system broke down. The subsequent parcelling out of these lands and fixing a fair rate per acre has been attended with great trouble and chicanery. It is presumed the Settlement Department will have no difficulty in fixing a fair rate per acre for the different classes of garden and wet land and which will do away with existing inequalities as regards sugar-cane cultivation and "Druvapairu."

3. It may be remarked in conclusion that many tanks in this taluk have large stretches of wet land below them; much of which land is "saul;" and even such as is not "saul" is not freely taken up, owing either to sparseness of cultivators or to preference for dry cultivation.

I have the honor to be
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,

L. RICKETTS,
Deputy Commissioner.

Rev. No. 1334.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,
Camp Solur, 19th December 1880.

From

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District.

To

The Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey.

SIR,

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter to my address, No 964, dated the 15th instant, forwarding for expression of my opinion, report (herewith returned) upon the proposed revision of the assessment of the Dodballapur Taluk of this District, and, in reply, to state as follows.

2. The marked fluctuations of the collections as set out in para 20 of Major Rutherfurd's report are not surprising when the large item of batayi is taken into consideration. An abrupt fall or rise, yearly, of thousands of rupees was merely contingent upon (1) the supply of water whether good or scanty received by the numerous tanks of the taluk, and (2), whether the ruling prices of rice were high or low. Even after the famine, as alluded to by Major Rutherfurd, with half of the cultivators either dead or crippled in their resources, it was found possible to increase the revenue by Rs. 11,000. In olden days, this forcing up of the collections seemed to be the main idea of an Amildar's work; but it is hardly necessary to state that the exceptional pains taken with batayi in 1878-79 was, not in order to shew an increased revenue, but to raise as much crop as possible for the benefit of the then half-starved ryots.

3. Happily batayi with its forced system of cultivation, its numerous frauds and system of thieving collusion is now at an end in this taluk, and the ryots will gradually take kindly to their wet cultivation, and not as formerly, half if not wholly, dread it. Batayi was further a terrible drain on the land as no manure was used, whilst ere long some portion at least of the ryots' manure will be diverted to wet lands. Even sugar-cane was at one time cultivated on batayi in this taluk; and unfortunately when it was abolished, an unsound system of taxation was introduced in lieu, when heavy rates were charged one year, and half rates the year following. Even the same principle was in a measure followed in rating sugar-cane when grown on garden lands, and there was the further evil that when the enhanced rates were once charged, the cultivators found it extremely difficult to get rid of them although they had discontinued growing sugar-cane. No wonder then that there is an absence of sugar-cane growth in this taluk; though I think there is also a temporary cause at work just at present, viz. to try and deceive the Settlement Department. About Rajgatta, in particular, I missed, this year, the accustomed sugar-cane growth; whilst in a neighbouring taluk, Devanhalli, I had observed a garden owner deliberately filling up a well, and removing a hedge and other traces of garden cultivation, in anticipation of the then approaching survey. I merely mention this to shew that sugar-cane cultivation will not be so neglected after the settlement is over, and further as evincing how necessary it is to push on survey and settlement operations as rapidly as possible; for in all unsettled taluks, especially about large centres, there is a certain stoppage and concealment of improvement, in other words, stagnation, till the settlement is finally introduced.

4. Ever since I have been in this District, some 10 years, I have been struck with the large amount of dry waste land. Some of this waste bears marks of having been previously cultivated and I was told that it was so cultivated in 1866-67 when gram was very dear. In one sense, this would serve to shew that the soil was poor and could only bear to pay a tax when grain was dear; but on the other hand, it is to be observed that Kasba Dodballapur and its neighbourhood have been decaying for years past; especially as regards descendants, more or less remote, of the old Muhammadan dynasty, and with their decay can be traced the decadence of several old families of Deshmukhs and Deshpandes. Then came the total failure of sericulture which was a very serious loss, and then followed the famine which was more severe in its effects in this than in any other taluk of the District, and to add to the trials of the people, a severe form of cattle disease carried off numerous cattle last year. Still, notwithstanding all this, I am of opinion, having but recently completed its jamabandi, that the remnant of cultivators left are mostly of the right sort and that, humanly speaking, the taluk is now on a very fair way of recovery.

5. The large extent of wet waste must in great measure be put down to the blighting influences of batayi; and as the population has suffered so severely by famine, it will take years before the wet land is fully taken up and even then it will be found. I think, that some of the new cultivators will come from Bangalore and other parts.

6. I should not omit to mention that in the year 1868—69 or 1869—70 heavy floods breached numerous large tanks in this taluk and which of itself must have caused a heavy loss of revenue in subsequent years, and no sooner were these tanks repaired by the Irrigation Department, than came the famine and frustrated everything.

7. The wrong system of converting batayi into nagadiyat is alluded to in para 18 of Major Rutherfurd's report. The originator of this system was Mr. Bowring ; but it is pretty certain that he only inculcated a principle, and had no conception that those entrusted with the carrying out of his scheme would have fixed rates, which could only have been accepted under the stimulus of high prices, without the necessary margin for low prices and, what is of equal importance, a series of seasons when the tanks might not receive a sufficient supply of water.

8. After the breaking down of the system above referred to, batayi has only been carried on in a half-hearted sort of manner, especially as the ryots came gradually to learn that they could not actually be coerced into such cultivation.

9. I doubt whether much land will be thrown up at the settlement, and if it is, it will not I think be owing to the proposed rates, but to causes connected with the famine, especially in the death or desertion of so many laborers. Even a far lighter assessment, as a temptation (which would be wrong on principle) to take up more land would not be of much avail when the necessary cultivators and sub-tenants are not forthcoming

10. The table of rates given in para 24 of Major Rutherfurd's report is in fact the key of the settlement. I cannot say, as regards garden and rice lands, that they appear low ; but they are not in my opinion unduly high, counterbalanced as they seem to be by very moderate rates on the dry lands. On the whole, the proposed assessment on occupied lands of Rs. 99,039 seems to me quite feasible, and, moreover, proper, as dovetailing with the rates of neighbouring settled taluks.

I have the honor to be

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Deputy Commissioner.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 14th September 1881.

No. 4977-86—144, DATED 14TH SEPTEMBER 1881.

ORDER.—Orders having already been issued sanctioning the proposed settlement, the above papers will be recorded.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary

To—The Superintendent of Mysore Revenue Survey.
" Deputy Commissioner of the Bangalore District.
" Deputy Commissioners of other Districts.
" Comptroller.

PART I.

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 1st September 1881.

No. 4650-3—279, DATED BANGALORE, 1ST SEPTEMBER 1881.

ORDER—His Highness the Maha Raja is pleased to lay down, in supersession of previous orders, the following Rules for the conduct of business connected with the Palace —

I. The Assistant Commissioner attached to the Palace will have charge of the Palace Treasury and Establishments generally, and will conduct the ordinary duties of the Palace Household under such orders as may be given to him by His Highness from time to time. The Barr and Zillo Establishments will be under the orders of the Military Bakshi, Basappaji Ars

II. The Assistant Commissioner is authorized to incur all sanctioned expenditure according to the mamul pattis, to carry out any repairs not exceeding 100 Rs. in cost and to meet any other emergent expenditure within the above limits. All other charges and estimates for works above 100 Rs. should be submitted for the sanction of His Highness.

III. The Assistant Commissioner is authorized to make advances to Palace servants and Palace stipendiaries, when considered desirable, within the above limit of 100 Rs. to be recovered within one year by stoppages from their monthly pay.

IV. The Assistant Commissioner should see to the careful custody of all Palace property and keep under his keys such of it as is not in ordinary use by the departments. He will further see to the good conduct of the servants, and should exercise a vigilant scrutiny over the expenditure in all the departments of the Palace.

V. The existing arrangements for submitting the monthly accounts of the Palace expenditure to the Comptroller for audit under the orders of the Dewan will continue. The accounts will be kept by that officer distinct from those of the General Administration of the Province, and he will submit an annual account of the same to His Highness through the Dewan when the whole of the monthly accounts with their vouchers will be returned to the Palace for record.

VI. Appointments and removals of menial servants under 10 rupees pay can be made by the Assistant Commissioner. Qualified persons only should be appointed from amongst the heirs of the deceased servants and other dependants of the Palace, and no strangers should be introduced except with the sanction of His Highness.

VII. Appointments and removals in the Barr and Zillo Establishments will be similarly made by the Military Bakshi, but enlistments of new men on these establishments should be passed by a Committee consisting of the Military Bakshi Basappaji Ars, Barr Bakshi Virappaji Ars and the Assistant Commissioner in charge of Palace Establishments, after due examination of the character and physique of the men.

VIII. All higher appointments will be made under the sanction of His Highness.

IX. Lapses amongst the stipendiaries of the Palace will be submitted to His Highness for orders in quarterly lists.

C. RANGACHARLU,
Dewan.

To—The Comptroller in Mysore.
" Assistant Commissioner in charge of Palace Establishments, Mysore.
" Assistant Commissioner, in waiting on His Highness.
" Military Bakshi to His Highness.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 8th September 1881.

READ—

Letter No. 402 of the 24th August 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of the Hassan District, regarding a case of misappropriation of Government money by Srirangachar, formerly Revenue Gumasta of the Nagamangala Taluk.

No. 4794-4801—136, DATED BANGALORE, 8TH SEPTEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Deputy Commissioner overlooks the discredit attaching to the failure of justice in such a case of gross irregularity as the one under notice. A Village Shanbhog remits certain collections which are appropriated by the Nagadi Gumasta of the Taluk The amount collected is struck off the individual list of arrears furnished by the Shanbhog to the Taluk Cutcherry. When the irregularity came to notice long after, the Shanbhog produces before the Taluk Sheristadar his Khirdi Book in support of the remittance, and the Taluk Sheristadar admits his having seen the remittance acknowledged in the book, but states that he returned the book to the Shanbhog which the latter denies. The Deputy Commissioner, considering that there is no direct evidence of embezzlement against the Nagadi Gumasta, directs that the Shanbhog should pay the amount over again.

2. There is, however, in the facts above stated, sufficient primâ facie evidence that the money has been remitted to the Taluk Cutcherry, and the onus of explaining what became of it devolves on the Taluk officials jointly and severally. They cannot be permitted to screen themselves under the plea of want of proof. But there is also unmistakeable evidence of guilt against the Nagadi Gumasta in the letter written by him to one Shamanna and forwarded by him to another Ramanna begging for an intercession with the Shanbhog, the complainant. The Nagadi Gumasta Srirangachar's explanation in regard to this letter is evasive and unreliable. It becomes necessary therefore to order his removal from office. The conduct of the Taluk Sheristadar is also unsatisfactory. His statement that he returned the Khirdi Book to the complainant is open to doubt. The complainant can have no object in keeping back the book which is the principal evidence in support of his charge, and which he himself produced before the Taluk Sheristadar. Even if the Sheristadar's statement in this respect were to be admitted, he must be held to be guilty of gross neglect in allowing a book of the kind relating to a case of defalcation to pass out of his hands. His previous good character would have told in his favor if he had revealed the real facts of the case; but such combination of the Taluk officials to defeat justice in the case requires serious notice. The Taluk Sheristadar Súrappa will be degraded to an appointment of Rs. 30.

3. The Amildar Ranganna himself is also to blame for not having taken proper steps to institute a prompt enquiry into the case and bring the offenders to light. The Deputy Commissioner is requested to convey to the Amildar the Government disapproval of his conduct.

4. As there can be no doubt that the Shanbhog remitted the money to the Taluk Treasury as acknowledged in the Khirdi Book inspected by the Taluk Sheristadar, the amount Rs. 27—11—8 should be written off the accounts.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

To—The Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, with vernacular proceedings.
Deputy Commissioners of other Districts for information.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 8th September 1881.

No. 4802-9—137, DATED BANGALORE, 8TH SEPTEMBER 1881.

ORDER.—It is of great importance that a regular system should be observed by Deputy Commissioners and Officers in charge of Sub-Divisions in respect of hearing petitions in Revenue and Miscellaneous matters. The District Officers, it is believed, would generally desire to be accessible to petitioners at all times in order that they may keep themselves informed of what is passing in their Districts. The Dewan does not wish that there should be any alteration in this respect, but he considers that in the interests of the people it is necessary that one or two days in the week should be specially set apart for hearing petitioners in person, that at the appointed hours on such days the petitioners should be formally heard, and that the Deputy Commissioners should personally explain to the petitioners the orders passed on their complaints, besides furnishing them with endorsements in writing clearly setting forth the grounds of the orders passed.

2. It is believed that some arrangements of the kind exist in all the Districts, but too much importance cannot be attached to their being strictly observed and the Deputy Commissioners are therefore requested to report what arrangements exist in their Districts on this matter and what days are set apart in each District for the hearing of petitions.

3. The Dewan is anxious that persons should not be put to the trouble of travelling a great distance to the Head Office to complain and that the time of the Public Officers should not be taken up by needless references regarding petitions; but this object can only be secured if the Deputy Commissioners themselves hear such petitions regularly and give the complainant satisfactory answers.

4. The necessity for calling for reports on petitions will to a great extent cease to exist if endorsements furnished by Deputy Commissioners are full and clear.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Judicial),—dated 26th October 1881.

READ—

Letter from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, No. 443, dated 3rd September 1881, enquiri whether any Advocate other than the Public Prosecutor can be authorized to conduct the defence in appeals preferred to Sessions Courts by the Public Prosecutor in criminal cases disposed of by Magistrates, under the authority given in Chief Commissioner's Proceedings No. 2895—2909, dated 22nd July 1880.

No. 5559-73—160, DATED 15TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The conditions upon which Public Prosecutors are employed may be conveniently revised on the occasion of future appointments, in view to their undertaking all Goveir..ent criminal work in the Sessions Court, both the prosecutions in sessions cases as well as the conduct of the defence in appeal cases against the decisions of Magistrates whenever required; but they now appear to be employed primarily for the conduct of sessions cases only. The cases in which Pleaders are employed for upholding magisterial convictions must be quite exceptional, and in such cases it will be convenient and desirable to employ the Government Prosecutors only who are under obligation to take up such cases at a fixed rate of remuneration, except where, as in the case under notice, it becomes necessary to employ other Pleaders in consequence of the Government Prosecutor having previously engaged himself on the opposite side.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

" Deputy Commissioners of Districts.
" Public Prosecutors.
Copy to the Offg. Chief Judge for information.

No. 5913-21—171, DATED 26TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER.—It having come to notice that some Assistant Commissioners are still in the habit of taking parties and witnesses with them from place to place while on tour for the enquiry of Magisterial and other cases, the Deputy Commissioners are reminded that the arrangements recently made for conferring Criminal powers on Sub-Judges and Munsiffs were expressly intended to put an end to such procedure so inconvenient to the parties and so objectionable in every way. District Officers should make their Assistants and Amildars clearly understand that they are invariably to hold such enquiries at their Head-quarters except when they have to institute a local investigation, or when they are engaged in the jamabandi settlement of taluks and cannot therefore be present at Head-quarters. In these latter cases the enquiry should be completed at the Taluk Head-quarter station where it was commenced. Should there be any unavoidable deviation from this course, the same should be reported to this Office; but any occasion for it can be easily avoided by transferring such Criminal cases to the Sub-Judges or Munsiffs.

Secretary.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Judicial),—dated 28th October 1881.

READ—

Letter No. 238 of the 17th October 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of the Kadur District, regarding Mr McMaster at Chikmagalur.

No. 624—10, DATED BANGALORE, 28TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The point which requires attention in this and in other serious Police cases, such as dacoity, &c., is the importance of giving immediate information to the authorities in the neighbouring Taluks or Districts on the road, so that they may take the necessary precautionary measures in the matter. The Assistant Commissioner Mr Muhammad Ali states that as soon as he received information of Mr. McMaster having been left by his friends, he sent expresses at once to the Belur Amildar and to Dr. Lincoln at Hassan, intimating the circumstance, which was nearly all he could have done in the matter. He should, however, have also given intimation to the District Magistrate at Hassan.

A. H. MACINTIRE,
Secretary.

To—The Deputy Commissioner, Kadur District
" Deputy Commissioners of other Districts.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Judicial),—dated 24th October 1881.

READ—

Letters Nos. 415 and 417, dated respectively the 8th and 9th September 1881 from———— ————————reporting upon petitions from———————————— ——— —or— ————————and————————————of——— ———— ——against certain proceedings of the Amildar of the———————————— ——— Taluk.

No. 5925—356, DATED 24TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Dewan is unable to concur in the lenient view of the Amildar's conduct which the Deputy Commissioner seems disposed to take in the two cases under notice. The long interval which was allowed to pass since the date of the complaints and the difficulties of the complainants who are ordinary ryots getting witnesses to speak against an influential officer like the Amildar render the results of the enquiry imperfect.

2. As observed by the Deputy Commissioner, however, the Amildar's act in proceeding to the house of the complainant————————————————, and compelling her to bring out all her valuables for examination was an unauthorized and unjustifiable abuse of his authority. This step appears to have been resorted to merely on the verbal request made by complainant's brother-in-law————————who lived in a different house and who according to the Amildar's statement when asked to identify the jewels replied "my ancestors kept a long time ago, how can I identify them." This clearly shows upon what a flimsy pretext, what was in effect the search of the complainant's house was resorted to by the Amildar apparently under the influence of————————,————————————,———— ————————. No conclusive opinion can be come to on the charge of ill-treatment of the complainant and the removal of her money by the above individuals, if not by the Amildar himself. But the hasty and irregular manner in which such a serious measure as the examination of one's property without adequate cause was resorted to even without the formality of a Panchayat, might have given room to such abuses on the part of the Amildar's dependants.

3. In the 2nd case, bullocks are taken on loan by the Amildar from a respectable Arasu ryot and used for cultivating the Amildar's or his relations' lands in———— ————————near————————————, and when the ryot complained of the bullocks having been long kept and took them back and afterwards refused to sell them to the Amildar, then at once arises a charge against the ryot of the theft of certain drums of a temple which had really been sold to the ryot publicly by the Pújari of the temple some years ago during the famine. The Police Inspector investigates the charge and commits the ryot to the Amildar's Court, where after being confined in the lock-up for a night and day, he is acquitted and released. The circumstance of the complaint having been made to the Police Inspector and not to the Amildar and the Amildar's acquittal of the ryot, are referred to as proof of the Amildar having had no connection with the charge. But the trumping up of such a charge on an old transaction immediately after the occurrence relating to the bullocks gives rise to the suspicion that it must have been the work of the Amildar's dependants if not of himself. The Amildar's explanation too that he bought and paid for the bullocks and sent them thirty miles away near————————to be trained for him, and returned them and got back the money after a month seems incredible. The complainant's statement that the bullocks were given on loan and used to plough the Amildar's relations' lands near————————————and were afterwards returned when complained of seems to be the more probable story. In either case the Amildar's proceedings were irregular.

4. There seems no reason to attribute dishonest motives to the Amildar in either case; but his irregular proceedings have occasioned needless hardship to innocent people and his hasty and impulsive abuse of his power for the display of authority seems to render him unfit for the responsible post of an Amildar which requires great discretion and consideration to the ryots As the Deputy Commissioner however does not seem to entertain any unfavorable opinion of his general character, it is deemed sufficient on the present occasion to make the Amildar pay a compensation of Rs. 35 to the 1st complainant to whom he has occasioned needless annoyance. His connection with the charge brought against the ryot in the 2nd case is not clearly established. The Government's disapproval of his conduct should be further conveyed to him with a severe warning that he will be at once removed in the event of any repetition of similar proceedings It may be desirable hereafter to transfer him to another taluk. Meanwhile his conduct towards the complainants in these cases and his relations with the three individuals above referred to as influencing his proceedings would require to be watched.

5. The conduct of the Police Inspector cannot also be lightly passed over. A respectable ryot is arrested upon a got-up charge of theft and though he made no secret of his purchase of the drums, with the theft of which he was charged, and readily produced them, his house is unnecessarily searched, and he is subjected to needless hardship and indignity. The Inspector is the officer immediately responsible for these proceedings and as it is of the greatest importance that such abuse of the powers vested in Police officers should be checked, he should at once be degraded to a ministerial post of a lower pay.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 26th October 1881.

READ—

Letter No. 1011—416 of the 14th October 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar, enquiring whether the orders conveyed in Proceedings No. 4816-24—138 of the 8th September 1881, regarding the revision of the settlement of Kodigi inams are applicable to the Kodigi tanks abandoned by the Public Works Department.

No. 5841-9—167, DATED 25TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The restoration of kodigi inams could only be made on the condition of the inamdars keeping up the tanks, and the rule cannot therefore be applied without qualification to tanks situated in the series and which have been abandoned for professional reasons. Such cases should be reported for orders with the circumstances under which the tanks were abandoned, and stating whether there is any objection to their restoration. It must be further noted that the orders do not authorize the Deputy Commissioners to restore the inams on their own authority; but they are to submit a statement of the cases in which restoration is asked for with their recommendation.

Letter No. 488 of the 3rd September 1881 from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan.

No. 5896-5904—169, DATED 26TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—Though the Government have given up their claim to the revenue derivable by the sale of fishery in irrigation tanks, there is no reason why the fishery should not be utilized for getting done whatever may be considered advantageous to the tanks. In all the Taluks of the Hassan District the arrangement introduced by the former Deputy Commissioner, Colonel Hill, appears to be still in force. Under this arrangement persons fishing are required to dig up a certain amount of silt from the tank bed, which it is presumed will be afterwards gladly removed by the cultivators to their fields. There seems no reason whatever to disturb this arrangement. The quantity of silt required to be dug up may be raised or lowered according to the value of the fishery; but the village and taluk officers should take care that the silt dug up is removed by the ryots to their fields, and that the other conditions laid down by the Superintending Engineer as noted below are strictly observed:—

I. That the silt dug up shall be removed so as to prevent its being washed into the tank again.
II. That all banks, &c., thrown up for the purpose of catching fish shall be removed.
III. That fishing shall not be permitted near the front-facing or weirs of the tank.
IV. That no damage shall be done to the facings or to the tank in any way.

CAMP No. 18, DATED 28TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The system hitherto in force which associated a monopoly of date leaves with the monopoly of toddy given on contract was deemed objectionable on the ground of its placing the poor classes who live by making mats from date leaves at the mercy of the contractors, and it was therefore resolved to separate this item from the toddy contract, and it was provided in Section XI of the Advertisement that the contractors shall not cut or use any leaves except such as may have tobe removed for the purpose of drawing toddy.

2. The right to the leaves of date trees situated on Government lands has thus been reserved for separate disposal, but as it must occasion inconvenience to have two sets of contractors handling the trees, one for toddy and the other for leaves, it would be preferable to give the contract for the leaves on the date trees on Government lands to the respective toddy contractors. There is now the less objection to this course on the score of its giving rise to a monopoly as the holders of lands are now at liberty to use and dispose of the leaves of the date trees on their lands without reference to the toddy contractors.

3. Future toddy contracts will therefore comprise the use of the leaves of the date trees on Government lands made over to the contractor for the time beng. In the case of the existing toddy contracts, which do not comprise the right or allows it but partially, the Deputy Commissioners should arrange to make over the date leaves to the contractors for half the amount realized or credited under this heae in the previous years. Should the contractors not take them up on the above terms proposals for their separate sale should be submitted.

4. These orders do not affect the rent of "Kir Ichalu" or the smaller species of date which are not used for drawing toddy, and which can be sold separately by villages wherever they are found.

CAMP No. 19, DATED 28TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Rules and Proceedings, dated 2nd August 1881, and the observations made on the subject by the Dewan in the recent Assembly of Representatives, dispose of the points raised in the above letter. The permanent assessment, if at once applied for, may actually take effect after the expiration of the period for which any temporary remissions may be granted under Rule 7.

2. Grass lands in clearly-defined campact blocks within the limits of an estate may be separately demarcated and held on separate title on grass assessment under Rule 4; but they will not be allowed the benefits of the permanent assessment tenure except upon an assessment of Rs. 1—8 per acre. They can only be held on the terms and subject to the restrictions of grass lands.

3. If any sub-divisions of estates into totally distinct blocks of not less than 50 acres in extent, be applied for, it will be better to carry the sub-division into effect at once at the applicant's cost instead of leaving any occasion for it hereafter It will be seen that the separation of small separate native estates now clubbed by the Survey Department into one field is also desired.

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 28th October 1881.

No. 5905-12—170, DATED 26TH OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER.—Many of the petitions addressed to this Office have reference to applications for remissions of revenue or for the grant of extended time for its payment. Remissions cannot of course be given except in accordance with the rules on the subject or instructions which may be laid down from time to time; but extended time for payment of arrears, especially when they relate to previous and in many cases famine years, is a matter which the Deputy Commissioners might with advantage dispose of themselves. Their refusal to take any notice of such cases occasions needless petitions to this Office. The Dewan is anxious that the ryots should not be encouraged to appeal to the Head Office for what they ought to look to the District Officers. But this object can only be attained by the Deputy Commissioners hearing all such cases and giving the parties the necessary measure of relief.

2. It is not wished that extension of time should be granted indiscriminately as it would only lead to the further accumulation of the arrears which it might afterwards become difficult to recover; but where large arrears are due on account of previous years which cannot be expected to be paid without hardship, it will be advantageous to the State while showing proper consideration to the ryots to allow, in the event of their undertaking to pay up one-third or half the arrears besides the current revenue, an extension of time of 6 months or a year to pay up the remainder.

3. It cannot be too strongly impressed that coercive measures should not be resorted to except in cases of obstinacy or wilful neglect on the part of the ryots to pay up their dues, and a careful scrutiny into individual circumstances is necessary to avoid hardship, whilst ensuring the prompt realization of the revenue. Amildars are too apt to alternate from neglect to a general and indiscriminate resort to coercive measures in the collection of the revenue and they should be warned against it.

Docket No. 200, dated 12th August 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, submitting the Proceedings of the Municipal Committees of Húnsúr, Gundlupet and Narsipur regarding the classes for English instruction in those Municipalities.

No. 5784-93—165, DATED 21ST OCTOBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The necessary provision for the English schools at Gundlupet and Húnsúr has been made in the Municipal Budgets of these towns for the current year. The proposal of the Municipal Board of Narsipur, Talkad Taluk to establish an English school in that town, in accordance with the recent orders of the Dewan on the subject of extension of English instruction to Taluk Head-quarter and other Municipalities, is sanctioned.

2 But it must be observed that the establishments for the English classes at Gundlupet and Húnsúr and in the latter especially are quite out of proportion to the fees realized. Such expensive establishments cannot be required when the school attendance as indicated by the fees is so small. A single master in each case on a pay of 20 or 25 Rs., for which persons with good qualifications could be obtained, ought to suffice. The Municipal revenue collected from the people of the town in general cannot be permitted to be devoted to the English education of the comparatively few without any limit. The contribution from the Municipality ought not to exceed the amount of the fees realized. and this rule should be strictly followed in all cases.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Judicial),—dated 16th November 1881.

READ—

Letters Nos. 279 and 516, dated respectively the 6th July and 3rd November 1881, from the Inspector General of Prisons, Mysore, forwarding for the orders of Government copy of a letter with its enclosure from the Officiating Sessions Judge, Ashtagram, recommending the release of D. Baira and other prisoners in the Mysore Jail on the grounds mentioned in Dewan's Proceedings No. 1324—24 of 21st May 1881.

No. 6611-20—204, DATED 16TH NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The long terms for which the prisoners in all these cases were sentenced leaves it in doubt whether the offences of which they were guilty were not of a serious nature. His Highness the Maha Raja is however pleased, in accordance with the recommendation of the District and Sessions Judge, Ashtagram Division, to sanction the release of the 19 prisoners marginally noted. In order however that this act of clemency may have its proper effect, it is desirable that the Sessions Judge should personally explain to the prisoners the circumstances under which they are released and convey to them the expression of His Highness' hope that in thus sending them back to their families they would resettle themselves in a peaceful industrial life. The villages to which they propose to go and the occupations which they would follow should be ascertained from them and intimated to the District Officers concerned. These Officers, whilst avoiding any irksome surveillance over the released prisoners, should enquire and satisfy themselves that they follow a peaceful industrial life.

REVENUE.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 1st November 1881.

READ—

Petition No. 1092, dated 28th July 1881, from Mr. F. W. Smith, Toddy Contractor, complaining that he and his men are prevented from drawing toddy from date groves which were hitherto included in their contract.

(2.) Report from the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar No. 970—400, dated 28th September 1881, on the above petition.

No. 6095-6104—178, DATED 1ST NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The date groves in question appear to be from the report and its enclosures portions of occupied survey fields which, under the Survey Guarantee, have become private property and to which the abkari contract does not apply. Mr. Smith should arrange with the proprietors of the land for reasonable consideration to obtain their permission for drawing toddy, and it is hoped that he may be able to do so on comparatively cheap terms as the owners of lands are not permitted to draw toddy themselves.

2. It is however observed that some of the lands under notice which contained extensive date topes and which had been held simply on pasture rents or were unoccupied were allowed to be converted into private property at the survey settlement. The Survey Superintendent is requested to report how this was allowed. The Survey and Settlement Officers should be instructed to reserve strictly to Government all the date topes which are not held under cultivation patta, and not to allow pieces of land containing heavy date groves to be thrown into adjoining occupied fields for the mere convenience of measurement.

READ—

Letter No. 1833—555 of the 18th October 1881 from the Deputy Commissioner of the Hassan District, regarding the issue of toddy retail sale licenses by the contractors.

No. 6105-14—179, DATED 1ST NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The toddy sellers stand on a very different footing from the arrack sellers. They are entirely the servants of the renter who is responsible for a fixed rent, and who can remove the sellers at his pleasure, the Deputy Commissioner simply issuing the licenses to such persons as the renter may name, he having a control over the locality and number of the retail shops. He may also object to licenses being given to any persons of known bad character or who have been guilty of any breach of the rules. The licenses should therefore be furnished to the renters who are to apply for them and who will issue the same to their retail vendors. The arrack retail shops on the other hand (vide terms of Advertisement, Para IX) are under the management of the Deputy Commissioner.

Petition registered No. 2543, dated 17th December 1880, from Kalaiya of Anival in the Hoedurga Taluk, complaining that the portion of Survey No. 11 in the village held by him for several years has been made over to one of the other share-holders or Paikidars, on the ground of his absence from the village during famine.

Letter from the Deputy Commissioner of the Chitaldroog District, No. 339 of the 6th September 1881, reporting on the above petition.

No. 6115-22—180, DATED 1ST NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—Though the absent paikidar has strictly no right, not having returned and claimed even within the one year's time allowed in the late Chief Commissioner's Proceedings of 26th December 1877, No. 8389—R32, yet as the other share-holders to whom the land had been promised had not been actually put in possession, the Amildar's order restoring the land to its absent owner who afterwards returned, was considerate and proper. It is unfortunate that the Assistant Commissioner should have upset this order, and taken the land away and given it to the other share-holders. If no objection exists, the Dewan would wish to see the land restored to the owner in accordance with the Amildar's order. Such summary changes of possession should be resorted to with caution. If the possession of land by a party has to be upset, the officer passing such a decision will do well to obtain the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner before giving effect to his order.

Letter No. 602—400 of the 19th October 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of the Shimoga District, reporting upon a petition from Devar Shastri, Agent of the Kudli Sringeri Matt, praying for the restoration to the Matt of certain lands which have been alienated by the former Gurus.

Proceedings of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, Revenue Department, No. 3863-4—R. 664, dated 23rd October 1879.

Read—Letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, No. 75, I. R., dated 13th September 1879.

Order thereon.—The Government of India having decided that the Rules in regard to the treatment of alienations of inam lands belonging to religious and charitable institutions, published in Notification dated the 17th November 1877, should continue to be acted on, the Chief Commissioner cancels the instructions issued in para 4 of his Proceedings, dated 14th June 1879, No. 942-3—R. 169, to hold the above rules in abeyance.

2. Under the Rules of 1877 alienations made subsequent to 31st January 1853 are to be summarily cancelled, those of more than 50 years' standing prior to 14th December 1867 are to be respected, and those of less duration but of a date prior to 31st January 1853 are to pay half assessment direct to the institution to which the inam originally belonged. The Inam Superintendent should be called upon to explain how these last mentioned cases are recorded in the registers and provided for in the title-deeds in order that the jodi payable to the institution may not be mixed up with that payable to the Government. The cases perhaps may best be entered and confirmed under the head of the grant to the institutions concerned with a specification of the arrangements made, and not as a separate personal inam.

To—The Survey and Inam Commissioner of Mysore. To—The Inam Superintendent in Mysore.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 4th November 1881.

No. 6123-31—181, DATED 1ST NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Notification of 17th November 1877 remains in force as per Proceedings No. 3863-4—R. 664 of the 23rd October 1879, copy of which is now circulated to all Deputy Commissioners. The Deputy Commissioner of Shimoga should now dispose of the first three cases on the list in which alone the Matt seems to have any right, in accordance with the terms of the Notification.

Petition registered No. 589 of the 13th May 1881, from Ira, Kulavadi of Agalahatti in the Manjarabad Taluk, complaining that he was unjustly called upon to pay up the arrears of revenue for 1880—81 on a piece of land purchased by him in January 1881 when sold for arrears of 1879—80, although he was not put in possession of the land until the close of the year.

Also letter No. 1809—543 of 17th October 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, reporting on the above petition.

No. 6323-30—188, DATED 4TH NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—Purchasers at auction for arrears of revenue enter on the land free of all claims to past years' arrears which must be included in the demand on which the sale is held. They are however liable for the revenue of the year in which the land is purchased.

2. In the case under notice, however, the sale was only confirmed on the 9th March 1881, and communicated to the purchaser on the 30th April, after the close of the year, so that no patta was issued to him for 1880—81. He cannot under the circumstances be held responsible for the arrears due for a year in which he did not get possession of the land. The land should have been sold early in the year and ruling thus, the taluk authorities should have arranged for the temporary cultivation of the land under Amani when it was under attachment. Their omission to do so necessitates the writing off of the revenue due. They will hereafter in such cases be held responsible for the loss accruing to Government by their neglect to make proper arrangements in regard to the cultivation of the lands.

Letter No. 273 of the 14th July 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, regarding the recovery of arrears of quit-rent on Enfranchised Inams.

No. 6577-84—203, DATED 15TH NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—There seems no room for any doubt in the matter. Para 2 of the Notification No. 213 of the 27th September 1870 distinctly provides that the quit-rent on enfranchised inams "should be realized precisely in the same manner as kandayam assessment upon Government land." Para 3 simply lays down the procedure as it then existed. It is at the discretion of the Revenue officers to sell in the first instance the inam itself or other movable property of the inamdar. The latter course will be conveniently resorted to where the arrears are very small in amount. But in all other cases it will be preferable to sell the inam lands upon which the arrears are due in the first place and to resort afterwards to other property, movable or immovable, of the defaulter.

2. Where the inam land does not realize at the sale the arrears due, it cannot be worthwhile to continue the inam tenure, and it is better for the Government to buy in and resume the inam tenure writing off the arrears due. In so doing the inamdar is not exempted from liability for the arrears remaining over and above the amount for which the inam land has been bought in by Government. It is left to the discretion of Government to proceed against his other property or to write off the whole of the arrears due. Where the former course had been followed as in the case under notice, there is no occasion to cancel it.

3. When an enfranchised inam fetches at the sale the full amount of the arrears due upon it, it cannot of course be resumed or bought in by Government for any lower price.

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 3rd November 1881.

READ—

Letters from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, Nos. 2 and 442, dated respectively, 3rd August and 3rd September 1881.

No. 6233-40—184, DATED 3RD NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—In the above the Deputy Commissioner reports on certain disputes existing between the Vaishnavas on the one hand and Smartas and Madhvas on the other in regard to the latter offering uncooked articles of food prepared by themselves to the idol in the temple at Belur. The dispute does not refer to cooked food which all admit is not usually allowed to be so presented, nor to fruits and other raw articles which all are allowed to present, but to pánaka or sugared-drinks and hesarabele or pulses soaked in water.

2. The action of the Muzarayi Officers in the case has been more to promote faction than to settle matters amicably according to recognized custom. The dispute commenced in 1871 and the Muzarayi Officers in that and the next year, who were of the Smarta caste, passed orders authorizing the presentation upon an enquiry which is not entitled to much credit; and the subject has ever since been a bone of contention, one party making the offerings under the authority of the orders issued by the Muzarayi Officer in 1871 and the other, if they did not succeed in resisting it, performing mahabhishekam to purify the temple which they consider to be defiled by the offering.

3. The matter is one in which there ought to have been no difference of opinion whatever. It is a well known and recognized custom in all Vaishnava temples that offerings of food articles other than fruits and raw vegetables are not allowed to be prepared and presented not only by Smartas and Madhvas but also by the Srivaishnavas, the articles being required to be prepared by the servants attached to the temple and generally within the temple itself. Such offerings from outsiders are not permitted in the Siva temples either. Under these circumstances there could have been little difficulty in convincing the Smarta disputants of the impropriety and unreasonableness of their request if the Muzarayi Officers took up the subject in fair spirit.

4. If a different custom were shown to have prevailed in any instance in the Belur temple, it would have been obviously necessary under the above circumstances to have construed it narrowly and strictly. The only tangible evidence of such a custom which has been brought forward is the fact that a certain allowance from sayer revenues has been long set apart for these offerings of non-cooked food by all the three sects of Brahmans at the Teppotsavam festival of the temple, and there is reason to believe that such offerings by all classes of Brahmans were permitted when the idol was taken outside of the temple on the above occasion and this is perhaps all that the Smartas and Madhvas intended to claim and would have claimed had it not been for the countenance to the false claims given by the Muzarayi Officers.

5. A broad distinction can be well drawn between the offerings within the temple and those made on the occasion of the idol being taken out on processions; and as in the case of the Belur temple it appears to have been customary to allow such offerings on the occasion of the Teppotsavam festival, the same may be continued without objection.

No. 544 of 1st September 1881, from the Superintending Engineer.

No. 6558-65—201, DATED 15TH NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The accident in the present case appears to have resulted from overcrowding on the boat. The boatmen plead that they were not apprised of the number of people the boat could carry The Deputy Commissioner should arrange for the periodical inspection by Amildars or other officers of all the ferry boats in their respective taluks and for furnishing the ferrymen on the high roads with licenses specifying the number of passengers they are licensed to carry on each boat. The number may with advantage be marked on a conspicuous part of the boat for the information of all concerned.

Letters Nos 280 and 310 of the 11th and 20th July 1881, respectively, from the Inspector General Prisons stating that the Police whether in the Kadur or Shimoga District are to blame for the escape of the convicts referred to

Letter No. 219, dated 6th September 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Kadur reporting on the same

No 6566-76—202, DATED 15th NOVEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Officer in charge of the Shimoga Jail reports that he made over the two prisoners properly handcuffed and warned the Police of their dangerous character. Such verbal intimation however cannot be expected to be properly transmitted when the Police escorts change on the way. It should have been entered in a memo and sent with the prisoners for the information of the Police on the road. It further appears that the handcuffs were removed and taken back by the Shimoga Police when the prisoners were handed over to the Police at Tarikere and that the handcuffs available at the latter place not fitting the prisoners the prisoners were sent on without being properly handcuffed and so managed to escape. The Kadur Police were chiefly to blame and were punished by the Magistrate.

2. It should be arranged in future that the handcuffs should not be changed on the way and that when prisoners are being taken long distances the escorts should report themselves to the Chief Magisterial or Police Officers at the principal stations on the road in order that the prisoners may be inspected by them and any irregularities corrected.

REVENUE.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 7th December 1881.

READ—

Letter No. 1419—515 of the 25th November 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar.

No. 7162-9—219, DATED 7TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The remission of half assessment on entire fields of wet lands laid waste was sanctioned as a special case in the expectation that it will meet the great body of cases of lands laid waste from want of water without the necessity of any enquiry into individual circumstances. This remission cannot be extended further to cases of entire or partial loss of crops without leading to the objectionable features of remissions in general which it is the object of the survey settlement rules to put an end to. It would necessitate an individual enquiry which is open to great objection and it would be difficult to distinguish between entire and partial losses of crops Such cases moreover must in most parts of the Province be comparatively limited, and though the Dewan is aware that the Kolar District is more exposed to these failures of crops in the Kartika crop cultivation in bad seasons, it is not possible to extend the remission to them without opening a door to abuse.

2. There would also then arise the question of wet land cultivated with dry crop without irrigation in respect of which also the remission may with some fairness be claimed. But any relaxation of the general rule that all lands are to pay under all circumstances the assessment fixed upon them by the survey either in the above case or in the case of entire loss of crops cannot be sanctioned without the risk of abuse and interference with the principles of the survey settlement.

3. If in seasons of entire failure of water, it is found necessary to authorize the cultivation of dry crops on all the lands under a tank, or if the crops should entirely fail in bad seasons over a whole tract of country or over the whole area under a tank from its breach or other causes, a special report should be submitted recommending for previous sanction the measures of relief required in such cases.

Letter No. 1440—518 of the 28th November 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar suggesting that the rule not to grant remissions on account of famine years be confined only to whole inam villages and not to minor inams

No. 7170-7—220, DATED 7TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The general rule that inam lands or lands held on more or less favorable tenures are not entitled to remissions under any circumstances is based on sound principle and there is no reason to relax it in the case of minor inams any more than in the case of entire villages. They are already held on a favorable jodi or quit-rent which ought to enable the holders to meet losses from occasional failure of water or other causes.

2. This rule applies equally to service as to personal inams. If the quit-rentis not paid and if in the case of enfranchised personal inams no purchasers for them at auction could be found, the inam tenure should be resumed and the lands brought under full assessment. If there are cases of extreme hardship from the accumulation of heavy rates of quit-rent during the years of famine, an individual list of the same with all necessary details and with the recommendation of the Deputy Commissioner may be submitted for orders. But it must be distinctly understood that the Deputy Commissioners are not at liberty to grant remissions of revenue except in authorized cases.

3. With regard to the kodigi inams referred to in para 3, the cases in which it is proposed to restore the kodigi tenure being determined during the jamabandi settlement, there is no objection to the collection of the quit-rent due in such cases for past years being held in abeyance pending final orders.

Petition from Shamabhat appealing against the decision of the Assistant Commissioner Shanmugavelu Pille authorizing the issue of a patta in the name of one Narasimhashastri for petitioner's land in the village of Mirle, Yedatore Taluk

Letter No. 765 of the 22nd November 1881, from the District Judge, Ashtagram, forwarding the entire records connected with the above.

No. 7339-46—224, DATED 15TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The question of patta in this case is best decided in the usual course of revenue procedure without any judicial investigation of a questionable kind by Revenue Officers. The ordinary rule is that a patta standing in the name of a person cannot be transferred except with his consent or in the names of his heirs on his death or under injunctions or decrees of Civil Courts. In special cases when possession of the land has long or undisputably passed into the hands of others, the pattas may also be transferred to the names of the actual holders of the lands.

2. In the case under notice the patta stood in the name of Shamabhat who also obtained a decree for the rent on the land as a mortgagee though not as absolute proprietor thus being also in constructive possession. There seems under the circumstances no occasion to transfer the patta from his name to others in the face of his opposition. The patta should be continued in the name of Shamabhat and the other contending parties should be referred to the Civil Courts.

3. The Dewan directs that pending a revision of the Revenue law no claims relating to proprietary right in land be entertained by Revenue Officers. They are better taken up and decided formally and finally by the regular Civil Courts established in the Province.

No. D, dated the 20th December 1881 from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, reporting for approval that he has intimated to the Jamabandi Officers that the granting of remissions in the case of lands lying waste under tanks is permitted by the recent rules.

No. 7573-80—228, DATED 27TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The rules regarding the remission of half assessment on wet lands laid waste apply to lands situated under tanks yielding a revenue of less than Rs. 100 as well as those with a larger beriz, as all these lands are charged with the full wet assessment. But they were not intended to apply to tanks constructed or kept in repair by private individuals and for which they are allowed a permanent remission in the assessment. Some consideration may be necessary in these cases also in years of general failure of rain. But these cases which are not sanctioned by the rules should be submitted for previous orders.

2. The season in the current year cannot be regarded such as to call for the indulgence except perhaps in one or two taluks of the District.

Read letter No. 2577—764 of the 20th December 1881 from the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan regarding the remuneration of minor village servants.

No. 7600-7—CIRCULAR 229, DATED 28TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Deputy Commissioner seems to forget that the grain remuneration to the minor village servants is intended to secure more efficient work from them to the ryots who contribute the grain fees and not to make them merely more efficient Government servants. It is an essential feature of the system of grain fees that the ryots who are called upon to contribute them should be at liberty to withhold them if they can show that they have not been properly served by the servants concerned in matters relating to their functions as village servants. The rates of fees sanctioned for the Nundydroog Division, so far from being regarded as very fair, are complained of as entailing a heavy charge upon the cultivators. Before therefore sanction could be given for the introduction of the rates in Hassan, the Deputy Commissioner is requested to report after consulting the ryots in the different Taluks of the District what would be fair rates of grain fees to fix upon for the District and he should also submit a Talukvar statement showing the extent and net value of inam lands and other remuneration at present enjoyed by these village servants.

It is important that when the question of the proper remuneration of the minor village servants is taken up it should be considered in all its bearings and properly and finally settled. A nominal villagevar list of the minor village servants should be prepared and the duties to be rendered by them both to the Government and to the villagers should be clearly defined.

The Deputy Commissioners of the other Districts are requested to report on the arrangement necessary in their respective Districts

Letter No. 640 of the 25th November 1881, from the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore, soliciting sanction to conducting defence at Government cost in suit Bommanhalli Narasappa vs. Deputy Commissioner and Amildar of Bangalore.

No. 7145—343, DATED BANGALORE, 7TH DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—It is not possible to form any opinion in regard to the propriety of the proceedings of the various officers in this case without further information in regard to the dates on which the ryots first applied for the land, and they were referred to the Amildar and when other parties applied to Mr. Syed Nasruddin; and how he came to dispose of the matter without reference to the Amildar and when the ryots appealed against these proceedings and when the final decision of the Deputy Commissioner in their favor was passed.

2. Such transfers of possession of lands are always open to objection, especially when they are ordered after parties had been allowed to remain long in possession, and should not in future ordinarily be resorted to without previous reference to and sanction of this Office.

3. When civil suits against public officers have to be defended, a copy of the plaint together with a draft of the defence proposed should be forwarded. From the Deputy Commissioner's letter it is not to be gathered what the suit is for, whether for recovery of lands or for damages. Should however there not be sufficient time for forwarding the further information required as above, the Deputy Commissioner can at once arrange for the defence at Government cost, leaving it for future consideration whether any portion of it should not be borne by the officers concerned should the decision of the Court be adverse.

Estimate for Rs. 3,164 for the construction of a 3rd class travellers' bungalow at Channagiri.

No. 7512-20—227, DATED 22ND DECEMBER 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The Deputy Commissioner of Shimoga is requested to explain after inspection the necessity for the proposed travellers' bungalow at Channagiri. When and by what Department the existing building was built and the nature of this building, whether its walls are of brick and chunam or mud or of mud entirely, and whether it is terraced or tiled and what renders it unfit for efficient repair at a moderate cost. The Local Funds cannot in any case be spent on the work which is intended for a few of the superior classes only and not for the public in general. The Deputy Commissioner should also state what chattram accommodation there is for the public at the station and whether the existing Taluk Cutcherry can in any way be utilized when the new Cutcherry is completed: also whether the existing travellers' bungalow can be sold with advantage and for what amount. He should also give a list of all the public buildings in the station with their description stating how they are occupied. This information should invariably be furnished when the construction of a new building in any place is recommended.
